TWO MORE SHOT

An Unknown Man Shoots the Foreman of the Washery at Edgerton, Near Scranton.

ALSO ONE OF THE WORKMEN

Battalion of the Twelfth Regiment Sent to Panther Valley and a Protest is Entered.

WHAT PRESIDENT TRUESDALE SAYS

SCRANTON, August 20.—At the Edgerton washery of the Temple Iron company, at Edgerton, sixteen miles north of this city, at a late hour Monday, James Connolly, foreman of the washery and Forest Crossman, a workman, were shot and seriously wounded. Connolly will lose the sight of one of his eyes and Crossman had to have his left leg amputated above the knee.

The two men had left the washery about 10:30 p. m. to visit the slush dump, some 200 yards away to see how things were going there. While on the dump the shooting was done by an unknown man, who stood some forty yards away. Crossman had to drag himself from the scene of the shooting to the office at the washery, a distance of 200 yards. His sufferings, he says, were almost unendurable. There is no clue to the man who did the shooting.

TAMAQA, August 20.—General Gobin, who is in command of the battalion of the Twelfth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, sent from Shenandoah to the Panther Creek valley Tuesday morning, opened temporary headquarters in the town Tuesday night. The general and his staff will not return to Shenandoah until the latter part of the week.

The funeral of Patrick Sharpe, the strike leader who was shot and killed at Nesquehoning Tuesday by a deputy, will take place on Thursday. All the miners' local unions in the region are making arrangements to march to Lansford and attend the funeral and General Gobin will probably station troops along the route to be taken by the funeral.

HAULETOP, August 20.—President Thomas Duffy, of district No. 7, United Mine Workers, has sent a formal protest against the presence of the Twelfth regiment at Manile park, near Coaldale. The note to Governor Stone declared that the situation does not require the troops and that an investigation by the governor would confirm the truth of the statement.

In the expectation that work will be resumed today at the Warnke washery, at Duryea, a number of additional deputies were sent to that place last night. It looks as though there would be ample protection for the employes and that the strikers will not attempt to make an attack on the workmen. An employe, on his way to the washery last night, was held up by unknown parties, stripped of nearly all his clothes, robbed of his dinnerpail and then told to return to his home, which he did in a hurry.

NEW YORK, August 20.—The presidents of the anthracite coal roads had their usual weekly conference here Tuesday.

Before going to the meeting Mr. Truesdale, president of the Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad company, said; "There is no foundation in fact for the rumor that the anthracite coal operators will make concessions in order to end the strike. I think work will be resumed in time to produce plenty of coal for the fall demand. The operators are ready, as they have always been ready to adjust with their men any grievances that they may have and they have never discriminated against any of their men because they have belonged to the union. What the operators will not do is to discuss their business affairs with outsiders."

An Aged Man's Death.

Adam Stover, Sr., expired Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of his step-son, Geo. Calhoun, at Mill Hall. Deceased has been in ill health for some time. About 10 days ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, compelling him to take his bed. He was getting along nicely until last Saturday, when he became worse.

Mr. Stover was born in Centre county about 75 years ago. He has been a resident of Mill Hall for 40 years, where he was highly respected and esteemed by all. He is survived by his step-son, George Calhoun, of Mill Hall, and one sister, Mrs. Josh Armstrong, of Pleasant Gap.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Hon. Solomon R. Dresser.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS 21ST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT A SELF MADE MAN.

Born and reared on the farm, Mr. Dresser has carved out for himself through his individual efforts a business career that has been not only successful, but honorable. Starting with his foot on the lowest round of the ladder, he has mounted steadily until he has acquired a competency and made for himself a business reputation, stamped with the trade mark of industry, honesty and integrity. In social life he commands and receives unqualified respect; his home life is of that high order of affection and kindliness that marks the best citizen. Public spirited, he has served in the legislature of his home city, when that city needed a guiding hand and a cool brain. Philanthropic, he has visited the sick, and given liberally to the needy in distress. No charitable or benevolent organization ever appealed to him without receiving quick and unselfish response.

Retiring, yet firm in his convictions; modest, yet aggressive in the cause of right, he is looked upon by the Republicans of McKean county as a positively safe man to lead us to victory and to place the Twenty-first Congressional district forever in the Republican column.

WEDDING BELLS PEAL FORTH.

In Honor of the Nuptials of Wm. H. Hunsinger and Caroline Witmer.

The beautiful country home of William Witmer in Buffalo Run Valley was the scene of a very brilliant wedding event at high noon Wednesday. The occasion was the giving in marriage of Mr. Witmer's daughter, Caroline to William H. Hunsinger, a prominent business man of Atlantic City.

The house was handsomely decorated for the occasion and over one hundred and fifty guests were in attendance. The ceremony was performed at high noon, the officiating clergyman being Rev. E. L. Eesinger, pastor of the Buffalo Run Methodist church. The best man was Mr. Thomas Tressler, of Wilmerding, Pa., and the bridesmaid Miss Jennie Witmer, a sister of the bride. Miss Anna Witmer another sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Hicklen, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Hicklen, of Bellefonte, were flower girls.

The bride was becomingly attired in fawn colored tafleta silk trimmed in real lace. She was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents which amply testifies to the high esteem in which she is held by those who know her.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunsinger left on an afternoon train for Eaglesmere and Philadelphia to enjoy their honeymoon after which they will go to Atlantic City where they will make their future home.

This paper joins with the many friends in extending congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Hunsinger and wishes them a pleasant voyage on the sea of matrimony.

Death of J. M. Hubler.

J. M. Hubler, a much respected and beloved citizen of Pine Hall, aged 70 years, died Saturday of typhoid fever.

The deceased was a sincere christian gentleman and a member of the Reformed church. He is survived by his wife, four daughters and three sons. Two of the family Addie and John are both at the point of death with typhoid fever.

The funeral took place Monday morning, Rev. Black officiating. Interment in Pine Hall cemetery.

Sulphur Water Destroys Smallpox.

Dr. A. H. Halberstadt, State Medical Inspector of Pottsville, Pa., after a thorough investigation, has issued a statement that smallpox cannot exist long in the anthracite coal region. He gives it as his opinion that the sulphur compounds which are found in the waste water from the mines act as powerful agents in destroying the disease germs to which communities as a rule are subjected.

A STRIKER KILLED!

Deputy Harry McElmoyle Arrested on the Charge of Being the Man Who Did It.

VARIOUS STORIES ARE AFLOAT

One is That the Dead Man First Pulled a Knife and Made a Lunge at the Officer:

GEN. GOBIN ASKED TO SEND TROOPS

NESQUEHONING, August 19.—In a clash between striking mine workers and deputies here last night Patrick Sharp, a striker, was shot and killed almost instantly by a deputy. The shooting caused considerable excitement for a time, but order was soon restored without any other person being injured and the town is now quiet. A deputy named Harry McElmoyle was arrested charged with the killing of Sharp and was taken to the county jail at Mauch Chunk.

The shooting occurred shortly after 6 o'clock. Five deputies were on their way to shaft No. 1 of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company just outside of the town. In the centre of the town they were met by a number of strikers who began persuading them not to go to the colliery. The officers did not stop but kept on their way and tried to prevent any trouble.

The strikers it is said then began to abuse the men and followed them nearly up to the colliery. There are conflicting stories as to what brought on the clash, but just before the deputies entered the place a shot was heard and Sharp dropped to the ground. The bullet entered his body close to the heart and he died almost instantly. Witnesses say that the shooting was done by McElmoyle and that he stood only six or seven feet from Sharp when he fired his revolver. Only one shot was fired.

The deputies immediately withdrew to the colliery and a large crowd gathered about the place. When it was learned that Sharp was dead there was the greatest indignation among the strikers and other townspeople and for a time it looked as though serious trouble would follow. Cooler heads among the mine workers, however, prevailed upon the crowd to disperse, using the argument that if there is any bloodshed troops would surely be sent here from Shenandoah. The crowd dispersed and the town soon calmed down to its normal state.

Witnesses to the shooting went to the office of W. R. Watkins, the justice of the peace, and made information against Harry McElmoyle, charging him with the shooting of Sharp. The justice placed the warrant in the hands of Constable Dockert, who found McElmoyle at Shaft No. 1 and accompanied by a guard of other officers took the prisoner to the county jail at Mauch Chunk.

Another version of the encounter says Sharp and three friends met the party of five deputies who were on their way to work and that Sharp walked up to one of the men, presumably McElmoyle, called him an "unfair worker" and told him that he would "be more of a man if he din not wear a star." He then made a lunge at the officer, whereat the latter drew his revolver and fired and Sharp fell to the ground dead.

After the shooting the five officers made their way to the Nesquehoning colliery where they were employed. Sharp was a leader among the younger element of the strikers and when the news of his death spread the entire Panther Creek valley was thrown into a turmoil. When his body arrived at his home in Lansford a mob of about 500 miners had gathered. After the dead striker had been carried home about half the mob started on a march over the mountain to Nesquehoning to wreak vengeance upon the deputies. Before they reached there the five officers were spirited away and taken to Mauch Chunk under heavy guard.

Lost His Entire Crop of Wheat.

Eugene Tewksbury, of Franklin township, Columbia county, had the misfortune to lose his entire wheat crop of 500 bushels, on account of the extreme wet weather. The grain had been threshed in the field and placed in sacks. Part of the wheat was then taken to the mill to be ground, but when the miller opened the sack he found the grain had sprouted through the sacks.

Hon. Alexander E. Patton.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATE.

Hon. A. E. Patton, comes of that sturdy stock made up of the blood of the Irish and the German that has furnished so many of the distinguished citizens of Pennsylvania. His ancestors took a prominent and active part in the great struggle for Independence; held high and honorable positions in Nation and State, and among the early pioneers who carved out of an almost unbroken wilderness the sites of the beautiful cities, towns, villages and farms of Central Pennsylvania. A native of Clearfield county, born at Curwensville on the 20th day of October, 1852, he is in the very prime of a strong and vigorous manhood. Educated at the schools of his native town, Dickinson Seminary in Williamsport, Chester Military Academy and the historic Philip's Academy, at Andover, Massachusetts, like so many of our successful men, he spent no time in pursuing a college course, and while still in the flush of youth, started out for himself in the State of Iowa.

He remained there for a number of years, part of the time working on a farm, and for several years conducting one of the largest nursery industries in the west. He was then called back to Curwensville to accept a position in the Curwensville bank, of which his distinguished father, the late Hon. John Patton, widely known as one of the most prominent and successful financiers in the state, was the President and principal owner. Under the careful and efficient training that he received from his father, combined with his natural business ability, he rapidly came to the front, and was recognized as a man of unusual business acumen, and while still taking an active part in the affairs of his native town and county, soon entered upon a wider career.

Quarterly Meeting of Friends.

"Centre Quarterly Meeting of Friends" will be held in their meeting house in Half Moon valley, near Stormstown, this county (Centre), commencing 8th mo. (Aug.) 30th, 1902, continuing three days. Following is the program :

SEVENTH DAY (SATURDAY), 30TH.

10 a. m. First-day School and Young People's Societies.

3 p. m. Ministers and Elders,—not public.

FIRST DAY (SUNDAY), 31ST.

10 a. m. Public meeting for worship.

3 p. m. Public meeting for worship.

SECOND-DAY (MONDAY), 1ST.

10 a. m. Meeting of delegates.

It is requested of all who attend the Sabbath-day meetings to be punctual in arriving, and promptly take seats in the house at the hours named, and remain in the house until the meeting closes.

A violation of this orderly conduct is a loss to the individual he cannot afford, and an injury to his neighbors he has no right to inflict.

It is the earnest desire of the Committee in charge that everyone interested, seeing this notice, will assist in carrying out this reasonable request.

For Those Employing Children, Girls or Women.

We had a call Tuesday from Deputy Factory Inspector John K. Robison, whom we found to be an agreeable gentleman, but who watches carefully to see that the law is observed.

We learned a great deal from him that we never knew before, among other things, he informed us that "no minor male or female or adult woman should be employed at labor or detained in any manufacturing establishment, mercantile industry, laundry, or printing office, for a longer period than twelve hours in any day nor for a longer period than sixty hours in any week" neither can any child under thirteen years be employed in above industries, any firm employing girls or adult women are required to provide suitable seats for these girls and women and to permit them to sit down when not necessarily engaged.

No less than forty five minutes shall be allowed for the noonday meal.

Any person who violates in the least respect any of the above provisions shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars.

The above is published for the information of any who are not familiar with the law on this subject.

A PLEASANT REUNION.

Was the Third Annual Gathering of the Williams Family and their Friends.

HELD NEAR MARTHA SATURDAY

Several Hundred Guests Assembled, Listened to Speakers, Enjoyed a Good Dinner and Had a Fine Time.

NAMES OF THE OFFICERS ELECTED

The third annual reunion of the Williams tribe and their friends, in John Q. Miles' grove, near Martha, on Saturday, August 16th, was a complete success in every particular. No more pleasant day for an out door gathering could be wished for than was Saturday last. The weather man was in a most genial mood and the members of the Williams family have reason to be thankful that such was the case.

The tribe began to arrive on Friday; they seemed to converge from all points of the compass, representing a half dozen counties. Upwards of a thousand people were on the grounds during the day. They had the look of happy and prosperous people, as they are, and they constitute not a little in making the enviable record made by Centre county for law abiding citizens.

People began arriving at the grove early in the day and the hours until noon were spent in greetings. Then came dinner and small family parties could be seen scattered all through the grove enjoying a meal in the woods. A representative of this paper had the pleasure of taking dinner at the comfortable home of ex-County Treasurer John Q. Miles, which adjoins the grove. John Q., is one of the most genial hosts you will find any where and with his kind hearted wife and daughter, Miss Maggie, made his guests feel perfectly at home providing a dinner for them fit for a King.

The Forest City Cornet band, of Scotia, furnished music for the occasion, besides this an excellent choir selected from the tribe, furnished vocal music. The Scotia band under the instruction of Charles Rote, of Coleville, is fast becoming one of the leading bands of Central Pennsylvania.

Two ball games were played in the afternoon, the first game was played by the junior team of Port Matilda, and the Martha team. And the second game by the Scotia and Port Matilda teams. Addresses were made, in the afternoon, by Rev's Downing of Pitcairn, Houck of Milesburg, and Editor T. H. Harter of Bellefonte. The greater part of the day was spent in becoming acquainted, renewing old acquaintances and in social conversation.

The officers for the coming year are as follows: A. C. Williams, President; Mesh Williams, Corresponding Secretary; A. Y. Williams, Treasurer, E. L. Williams, Historian; and W. S. Williams, Poet.

This organization is growing each year not only in number but interest. The enthusiasm manifested in this gathering is good criterion from which to judge the future of this organization.

All in all the re-union was a grand success.

12,000 Rose Blossoms on One Bush.

Several of our county exchanges have recently contained notes relating to the number of roses grown on Crimson Rambler bushes at various places. The greatest number reported was 6,400, grown by Mrs. Lewis Darling, of Lawrenceville, Tioga county, on a bush of four years' growth. It was eighteen feet high and twelve feet broad.

Mrs. Hiram Kilbourne, of Wellsboro, carries off the honors so far as heard from. She has a Crimson Rambler which covers her porch with between 10,000 and 12,000 blossoms. It is of three years' growth, is ten feet high and covers a surface of from eight to ten feet broad. The clusters are so thick that the foliage of the vine is almost hidden from sight, presenting a solid mass of beautiful flowers.

K. G. E. Reunion at Williamsport.

One of the greatest events of the summer season will be the Susquehanna Reunion of the Knights of the Golden Eagle at Williamsport on Labor Day, September 1. There will be a big parade, prominent speakers and a display of fireworks. The attendance promises to be immense.

Bellefonte Castle, No. 357, will attend in a body. The Central Railroad is selling excursion tickets over their road. The fare is $1.52 tickets good to return in six days.

WENT OVER THE FALLS.

Old Mans Rash Act—Harry D. Otto of Bellefonte, Was in Human Life Line that Attempted Rescue.

Harry D. Otto, of Bellefonte, who is visiting relatives at Niagara Falls, had quite a thrilling experience last Wednesday afternoon. He was one of the men that formed a human life line whose object was to save an old man bent on going over the Falls.

The following article from the Lockport Journal of August 14 gives the particulars of the affair.

"An aged man made a determined and a successful attempt to end his life by going over the American cataract at Niagara Falls on Wednesday afternoon. The attempt was witnessed by a number of persons, including women and children. A brave and perilous attempt at rescue was made by a number of men, but it failed just as success seemed about to crown the efforts. The women and children screamed in terror as the man shot over the brink of the American fall within 10 feet of Prospect point in the State reservation.

The suicide was one of the most deliberate that ever occurred at the Falls. The man was noticed strolling along the bank near the little summer house between the Goat Island bridge and the Falls, which is familiar to all residents of this city. Suddenly he jammed his fedoria hat down hard on his head and tied it on with a handkerchief.

Some women who were near laughed at what they supposed was simply the excentric act of an old man. He then stepped into the water, wading out carefully. Women who saw him screamed, and one man yelled at him to "come out of that."

The suicide paid no heed, but kept on wading out until the current swept him from his feet. A number of men had hastily gathered and they formed a line into the river. The end man, Capt. Frank Morse of East Clarence, succeeded in grasping the collar of the man's coat and would probably have got him to the shore if the centre man in the human life line had not loosened his hold and made it necessary for those in the water to save themselves and abandon the old man to his fate. Just before the latter went over he reached into his pocket and drew out a half dollar which he tossed to a would-be rescurer. He went over feet foremost. He was conscious all of the time apparently. It is said that the man may have come from Buffalo and efforts are being directed to learn if this is true."

The Christian Endeavor Convention.

For ten years the Christian Endeavor work of Centre county has been steadily carried forward under the banner of the County Union.

The convention at Howard on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, August 27th and 28th, will undoubtedly be the most enthusiastic mass meeting ever held by the Union.

One of the principal features of the meeting will be a lecture on Wednesday evening by Rev. Luther DeYoe, of Harrisburg.

Dr. Schuyler, of Centre Hall, will preach the Convention sermon.

Besides these other prominent Christian Endeavor workers will be present from our own and adjoining counties.

The Workers Conference will be of special interest to the delegates.

The Junior Rally on Thursday afternoon will far excel any of former years.

The Quiet Hour service will be in charge of Secretary Frank Gamel, of Bellefonte.

Let all Christian Endeavorers and pastors in the county make a special effort to be present.

JAMES A. PRATT, President.

Go Hand in Hand.

A preacher once said : "You editors do not tell the truth. If you did you could not live. Your newspapers would be a failure."

The editor replied : "You are right; and the minister that will at all times tell the bare truth about his members alive or dead, will not occupy the pulpit more than one Sunday, and he will find it necessary to leave town in a hurry. The press and pulpit go hand in hand with whitewash brush and kind words, magnifying little virtues into big ones. The pulpit, press and gravestones are the great triumvirate."

And the great minister went away looking very thoughtful while the editor turned to his work telling about the surpassing beauty of the bride, while in fact she was as ugly as a mud fence.

Dr. Richard Thomas, of Baltimore, a prominent minister in the Society of Friends, accompanied by his wife, are in Bellefonte attending Quarterly meeting. Dr. Thomas preached at the meeting house Wednesday and will preach again on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. There will be services on Sunday morning. In the evening he will preach on the history and doctrine of the society. Everyone is cordially invited to all the meetings.

Mrs. J. A. Aikens attended the funeral of a friend at Williamsport Tuesday.

DON FELIPE

By GRANVILLE TRARE

Copyright, 1901, by Granville Trare

Don Felipe, banker of Manila, knew that to lie for the good of the church is a virtue, and he was not the man to separate religion and business. His devotion to the strong box was no less ardent than his ambition never to fail of counting the requisite number of beads on Sunday or to confess to Father Jose at least once a quarter. So Don Felipe lied with readiness when the church or his pesetas were concerned, especially the pesetas.

Therefore was he considered a good citizen, and thereby also he incurred the wrath of two heretics, impolite Americans with ancient Springfields in their hands and un-Spanish ideas in their prairie grown brains.

But the brains and the rifles served Don Felipe well once when, just after their arrival, he offered two thousand ("Mex.") to Privates Turner and Larson for the rescue of his twelve-year old son, who was supposed to be at the plantation La Honradez in the interior.

The colonel, on whose ranch the two had punched steers, was obdurate when they went to him about it. But Larson had often worsted him at poker, and out of respect for the man he finally gave him permission to try for the reward. As for Turner, the "old man" loathed him for a shiftless dog and considered it only a question whether he would some time reach his death by Mauser bullets or by order of a court martial.

So Don Felipe sent his emissaries jungleward, to return after three months with a medley of bruises and beards of long standing and wide sweep. They brought the boy, and he was bruised about the ears.

"He thought he was the king of these cannibal isles," Turner said. "We had to cuff the little devil a good deal to teach him his place. At first he ordered us around as if he was born in shoulder straps, but we soon taught him that traveling in the jungle isn't the same thing as lying in a hammock and having a nigger to work the fan. That trip was a good thing for the kid. It would have been a good thing for any of these satin skinned Spaniards."

It was philosophy, but Don Felipe was no philosopher. He was indignant and went to the colonel. The colonel in turn was indignant and showed him the door, whereat Don Felipe waxed more wrathy than ever. He swore in fervid Castilian, brandishing his flabby fists, and told Turner and Larson to get their pay where they might.

It was a bluff, a lie, to save the reward, for if more cuffing would have yielded more gold he would have kept the boy's ears roaring like a canebrake in a monsoon. But what was to be done? The military government must be lenient with the resident population, advertising its benevolent intentions. Moreover, how were soldiers, who, according to the sergeant's book, had been spending their time in barracks to receive pay for a nasty job somewhere in the jungle?

Larson was stupefied. The ingratitude of the man was beyond him. It was an hour before he recovered from the shock, and when the eruption finally began Turner stopped him.

"Return good for evil," he admonished.

Larson was dazed anew, and his dumbness returned upon him.

"We must," continued Turner. "It is best for him that he should pay his honest debts, and we must do what we can to make him see his best interests."

It was Saturday night and Larson was eager for canteen drill, but Turner objected. He turned in early to think.

Monday morning, and Don Felipe sat at his desk, a look, half anger, half terror on his face and his right hand grasping nervously for his cane. The intruder was Turner. Don Felipe's apprehensions were soon quieted, however. Turner stopped at three paces from the door, hat in hand, and made a deep obeisance.

"Will the senor grant me a word?"

Don Felipe radiated majesty for a half minute, then pronounced:

"I shall hear you."

Turner expressed gratitude.

"The senor no doubt expects to dispose of his plantation."

No reply.

"The condition of the country is extremely unsettled and the future is uncertain. The new administration may not be friendly to Spanish interests. Being an American, I am willing to place capital here. In case the senor wishes to dispose of the plantation my friend and I are prepared to offer a satisfactory price."

Don Felipe was astonished at hearing a private refer to himself as a capitalist, but he reflected that the man must be merely an agent, and, moreover, even the shadow of such an opportunity would have been worth grasping at. But business policy dictated delay, and Don Felipe bade his caller to an interview the day following.

"Well?" queried Larson as Turner came back from the second encounter.

"Good. His standing me off for a day was pure bluff. He was dead anxious. All there is left for us to do is to sign the papers and turn over the money."

Larson contorted his visage expressively.

"When do we sign the papers?"

"Saturday evening, and we are to do it in style—invite a dozen or two of the push and have a blowout at the castle of his highness. A banquet is always in order with these Spaniards. A Spaniard couldn't have his mustache curled without giving a dinner."

Numerous paper lanterns rivaled the splendor of twenty white uniforms in the pavilion that served for a banquet hall, and the glory thereof was full compensation to Don Felipe for an expenditure that ordinarily would have been heartrending. He was eloquent in lame English, and there was free flowing of good wine and bad toasts.

"Ellos Socorrodores, the Rescuers," announced the toastmaster, and their host made Turner and Larson feel themselves heroes indeed. He forgot animosities and poured forth his soul.

Larson was touched. He whispered:

"Say, Turner, don't you think, really, now, that the old gent is coming around all right? Maybe we'd better not"—

"Yes, we had too. Suppose we'd be getting any of that if it cost him anything? Don't be easy—and let up on the cognac."

Don Felipe's commercial English was too limited for use on an occasion like this, and in his native tongue, thus interpreted, he concluded:

"Rescuers, heroes, you have restored to me the light of my soul. I owe you the life of my beloved son, and I repay you, senores, with the only reward which the poor may bestow or which heroes can desire; senores, I thank you."

Principals and witnesses signed legal documents, and Turner and Larson became owners of La Honradez.

Don Felipe was about to give the signal for resuming festivities when a servant brought a letter. It was from the plantation. He broke the seal and read:

Honorable Master—I hasten to write to you of what happened when the two Americans were here three weeks ago. One afternoon when we were all fishing in the river where it cut through during the last rains I dropped my fish pail in the water, and when I brought it up it contained some queer yellow pebbles. I showed them to the Americans, and they seemed greatly astonished and said it was gold, and they dipped the pail and brought up more of the pebbles.

Don Felipe did not finish the rambling account. He hastened to find the signature and after casting aside several closely written pages found crowded into a corner:

Your honor's faithful and humble servant, PEDRO.

Don Felipe felt genuine emotion now. His nails blanched, but he did not swear. Turner was watching him, and it was necessary to act. He signed for silence after a moment and said in a broken voice:

"Senores, a letter from my mother, on her deathbed. She—she makes a last request." Pause for supposed grief. "A last request that I shall never part with the beloved estate of La Honradez. Senores, you will appreciate my position. Such a request cannot be denied. I take refuge in the honor and generosity of my dear friends"—

"Alas, your honor's saintly mother," interrupted Turner, "a pious and devout woman, I have heard. Is her name not Pedro? I bribed Pedro to keep silence, but"—

Voluble and profane remarks from Don Felipe; then calm.

He led Turner to one side and settled the business like a man by paying two thousand ("Mex.") to get the deed back.

They of the uniforms departed. Another message arrived. It read:

Senor—It is my duty to inform you of the sad death of your faithful servant, Pedro, on the day before my arrival at La Honradez. He was wildly delirious before death and imagined himself the discoverer of quantities of gold.

How Wars Begin.

"Papa, how do nations get into war with each other?" asked Tommy Seasonby.

"Sometimes one way, sometimes another," said the father. "Now, there are Germany and Spain; they came near getting into war because a Spanish mob took down the German flag."

"No, my dear," put in Mrs. Seasonby; "that wasn't the reason."

"But, my darling," said Mr. S., "don't you suppose I know? You are mistaken. That was the reason."

"No, dearie, you are mistaken. It was because the Germans"—

"Mrs. Seasonby, I say it was because"—

"Peleg, you know better. You are only trying to"—

"Madam, I don't understand that your opinion was asked in this matter anyway."

"Well, I don't want my boy instructed by an old ignoramus."

"See here, you impudent"—

"Put down your cane, you old brute. Don't you dare bristle up to me or I'll send this rolling pin at your head, you old"—

"Never mind," interrupted Tommy; "I think I know how wars begin."—London Answers.

WONDERFUL BROECK

THE ORIGINAL SPOTLESS TOWN IS IN NORTHERN HOLLAND.

A Neatness and a Brilliancy That Are Absolutely Painful Pervade the Whole Place—Rules Which the Inhabitants Must Observe.

Far up in northern Holland among the dikes and canals of the little kingdom lies Broeck, the original Spotless Town. The palings of the fences of Broeck are sky blue. The streets are paved with shining bricks of many colors. The houses are rose colored, black, gray, purple, light blue or pale green. The doors are painted and gilded. For hours you may not see a soul in the streets or at the windows. The streets and houses, bridges, windows and barns show a neatness and a brilliancy that are absolutely painful. At every step a new effect is disclosed, a new scene is beheld, as if painted upon the drop curtain of a stage. Everything is minute, compact, painted, spotless and clean. In the houses of Broeck for cleaning purposes you will find big brooms, little brooms, toothbrushes, aqua fortis, whiting for the window panes, rouge for the forks and spoons, coal dust for the copper, emery for the iron utensils, brick powder for the floors and even small splinters of wood with which to pick out the tiny bits of straw in the cracks between the bricks. Here are some of the rules of this wonderful town:

Citizens must leave their shoes at the door when entering a house.

Before or after sunset no one is allowed to smoke excepting with a pipe having a cover, so that the ashes will not be scattered upon the street.

Any one crossing the village on horseback must get out of the saddle and lead the horse.

A cuspidor shall be kept by the front door of each house, where it may be accessible from the window.

It is forbidden to cross the village in a carriage or to drive animals through the streets.

In addition to these established rules it is the custom for every citizen who sees a leaf or a bit of straw blown before his house by the wind to pick it up and throw it into the canal. The people go 500 paces out of the village to dust their shoes. Dozens of boys are paid to blow the dust from between the bricks in the streets four times an hour. In certain houses the guests are carried over the threshold so as not to soil the pavements. At one time the mania for cleaning in Broeck reached such a point that the housewives of the village neglected even their religious duties for scrubbing and washing. The village pastor, after trying every sort of persuasion, preached a long sermon, in which he declared that every Dutchwoman who had faithfully fulfilled her duties toward God in this world would find in the next a house packed full of furniture and stored with the most various and precious articles of use and ornament, which, not being distracted by other occupations, she would be able to brush, wash and polish for all eternity. The promise of this sublime recompense and the thought of this extreme happiness filled the women with such fervor and piety that for months thereafter the pastor had no cause for complaint.

Around every house in Broeck are buckets, benches, rakes, hoes and stakes, all colored red, blue, white or yellow. The brilliancy and variety of colors and the cleanliness, brightness and miniature pomp of the place are wonderful. At the windows there are embroidered curtains, with rose colored ribbons. The blades, bands and nails of the gayly painted windmills shine like silver. The houses are brightly varnished and surrounded with red and white railings and fences. The panes of glass in the windows are bordered by many lines of different hues. The trunks of all the trees are painted gray from root to branch. Across the streams are many little wooden bridges, each painted as white as snow. The gutters are ornamented with a sort of wooden festoon, perforated like lace. The pointed facades are surmounted with a small weathercock, a little lance or something resembling a bunch of flowers. Nearly every house has two doors, one in front and one behind, the last for everyday entrance and exit and the former opened only on great occasions, such as births, deaths and marriages.

The gardens are as peculiar as the houses. The paths are hardly wide enough to walk in. One could put his arm around the flowerbeds. The dainty arbors would barely hold two persons sitting close together. The little myrtle hedges would scarcely reach to the knees of a four-year-old child. Between the arbors and the flower beds run little canals which seem made to float paper boats. They are crossed by miniature wooden bridges, with colored pillars and parapets. There are ponds the size of a bath, which are almost concealed by lilliputian boats tied with red cords to blue stakes, tiny staircases and miniature kitchen gardens. Everything could be measured with the hand, crossed at a leap, demolished by a blow. Moreover, there are trees cut in the shape of fans, plumes and disks, with their trunks colored white and blue. At every step one discovers a new effect, a fresh combination of hues, a novel caprice, some new absurdity.

The rooms are very tiny and resemble so many bazaars. There are porcelain figures on the cupboard, Chinese cups and sugar bowls on and under the tables, plates fastened on the walls, clocks, ostrich eggs, shells, vases, plates, glasses, placed in every corner and concealed in every nook. cupboards full of hundreds of trifles and ornaments without name, a crowding disorder and utter confusion of colors.—Public Opinion.

Subduing a Bully.

An experience on a Siberian train related by a writer in a Vladivostok paper reminds one of the early stagecoach days beyond the Mississippi and seems even more violent because the participants in the adventure were not rough plainsmen and mountaineers but a lady and a nobleman.

When the train pulled up at Tsitikar, in Manchuria, a Mantchoo noble who had bullied all his fellow passengers alighted at the station restaurant after warning them that he would decapitate any of them who took his seat. During his absence a smartly dressed young Russian lady entered the car and, despite the alarmed expostulations of its occupants, calmly appropriated the seat.

When the noble returned, he flew into a passion and advanced threateningly with his curved saber drawn. But the young woman coolly covered him with a shining revolver.

"Do you take us for a pack of cowardly mandarins?" she exclaimed, and then, pointing to her feet, she remarked, "Here is your place, my hero."

Books and English Spelling.

Most people think when they see a book that has the English spelling—the "u" in "honor" and "odor," the "ise" for "ize," etc.—that the types were set up and the plates made in England, but as a matter of fact most important books that are written by English authors are set up in this country. When an important writer is to bring out a new volume, an arrangement is made for its simultaneous publication on both sides of the water. The manuscript is then sent to the American publisher, who gives it to his compositors marked "English spelling," and it is set up in that manner quite as accurately here as any London compositor would do it. After the plates have been made they are sent to England. This roundabout method of simultaneous publication is due to the intricacies of the copyright law.—Philadelphia Record.

Making It Simple.

The scholarly looking man with the big eyeglasses had been invited to address the Sunday school and was making a few remarks concerning the lesson.

"I see the word 'line' occurs here," he said. "Will some one give me a definition of 'line?'"

Nobody answered.

"It is very easy," he proceeded encouragingly, "though you may find it a little perplexing to convey the idea in simple terms. Try again. Well, the ordinary signification of the word is longitudinal extension, but here it denotes a predetermined boundary. I am sure, my young friends, you can remember that."—Chicago Tribune.

AN EASY VICTORY.

How an Obstinate English Lord Was Outwitted In Naples.

Lord Charles Hamilton used to go about Naples attended by a large, ferocious bulldog. Having decided upon going to Rome, he proceeded to the station and took his place in a first class carriage, the "dawg" taking up a position on a seat opposite his master. The platform inspector, with many gesticulations, declared that the bulldog should not travel in a passenger carriage.

"Very well, then; take him out," was Lord Charles' rejoinder.

In vain the official expostulated. He merely reiterated his former reply, a piece of advice it is needless to say which was not followed, and Lord Charles, apparently master of the situation, threw himself back in his seat and calmly lighted a cigar.

But the Italians were not to be outdone, and, quietly detaching the carriage in which the English "milor" was seated, they made up the train with another compartment and started it off.

Lord Charles sat quietly smoking for about a quarter of an hour and then, surprised at the delay, thrust his head out of the window and demanded when the train was going to start. His feelings when the situation was described to him may be imagined.—London Tit-Bits.

The Emerald In History.

The Israelites respected the emerald as a stone of ecclesiastical harmonies, and we all know the passage in the revelation of "a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald," and how the fourth foundation of the wall round the heavenly Jerusalem was an emerald. In Ezekiel it is said, "Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of the wares of thy making; they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds, purple and broidered work and fine linen and coral and agate," and the high priest wore an emerald ring on the first finger of his right hand, all the same as did the Mexican pontiff serving in the temple of Votan, with whom and his Israelitish brother were strange points of resemblance.

One of Oswald's Jokes.

When a play written by a man who had roused Oswald's anger by reading a newspaper at a wedding of one of his friends was produced, he prevented its success by inducing 250 of his friends to attend it carrying great books. These young men, who occupied prominent seats, read their books while the performance was going on, and whenever there was any applause each one of them, as if moved by clockwork, turned over a leaf. The rustling of the leaves and the spectacle of the men absorbed in reading made the performance a complete failure.

ADVISING AN ARTIST.

The Novel Suggestion That Was Contributed by Uncle Silas.

Uncle Silas Eastman and his wife took summer boarders. One year they had a number of artists, who were attracted by the picturesque loneliness of the Eastman farm, and Uncle Silas never hesitated to say afterward that artists were "beyond him."

"They make no trouble about their eating," he said to a friend when at last the boarders had taken their way to fresh fields. "You couldn't call 'em prompt, but then they never minded whether things were hot or cool. Leastways they never found any fault.

"But they've got curious notions and mighty little faculty and common sense. One of 'em was to work on a sunset piece all the time he was here. I went out one evening and asked him how he was getting on, and he says:

"'Oh, Uncle Silas, the light changes so fast, and the effect is so hard to get and there's only one night more.'

"He was a nice little fellow, and I felt sorry for him, so I says: 'Well, why in tunket haven't the rest of 'em took hold with ye and helped ye out? There's room enough on that canvas for all four of ye to be working together! I bet ye never thought of asking 'em, now did ye?' I says.

"And do ye believe me, I'm as sure as I'm standing here in my overshoes from the blank look that spread over his face that the idea had never come into his poor, foolish head till I put it there!

"They've got their place, artists have, but there'd ought to be a gardeen 'pointed over every one of 'em that I ever saw! Yes, sir!"—Youth's Companion.

Of Age.

Some few days ago a policeman was sent to serve a summons on a notorious poacher. This person, who lived alone and had evaded service successfully for some time, was the owner of a mhle goat. My friend, whom I will call Mac, went to the defendant's house, but the wily poacher, observing his approach, had fled, leaving the door unfastened. Mac saw the goat tied up in a corner, entered and solemnly read the summons to him, after which he stuck the copy on his horns. He then went home and indorsed the paper thus:

"Served by leaving a copy of this summons in defendant's residence at ——, with an inmate," etc.

When proving service, Mac was asked by the magistrate:

"Was the inmate of age?'

"Your worship," said my friend, laying his hand on the middle button of his tunic, "he had a beard down to that."—London Tit-Bits.

A Palace by Piecemeal.

"I have bought a hut which I am transforming into a palace," said a woman. "You see, I had acquired a mania for buying the insides of fine old homes about to be torn down, and I had filled my city apartment with all that it would stand, besides putting a good deal in storage. Yet I kept on buying. One day I came across a well built but plainly furnished house on Staten Island which I could buy for a small price. At once I had visions of that house as it would look transformed by my fine old carved woods, marbles, tiles and mirrors. Mentally I did it up to such a degree of attractiveness that I just had to purchase it. The results are justifying my expectations. Every one who enters gives an exclamation of surprise and admiration, and I'm not through yet. The interior finish of my house cost originally tens of thousands of dollars and came from all parts of the globe. I got it for almost nothing."—New York Press.

Helping a Man to Suicide.

It is remarkable how a suicide by a certain method or in a certain place will lead to another of the same kind. A surgeon of the Middlesex hospital, in London, went into a barber shop to be shaved. The barber spoke of a man who had been unsuccessful in an attempt to kill himself by cutting his throat.

"He could easily have managed it," said the surgeon, "had he been acquainted with the situation of the carotid artery."

"Where should he have cut?" asked the barber. The surgeon told him. He at once left the room, and, not returning as soon as was expected, the surgeon went to look for him and discovered him in the yard with his head nearly severed from his body.

What Borax Is.

One of the most desirable articles in the laundry or the washroom and valuable in many purposes connected with the household economy as well as in scientific use is the simple salt known to every one under the name of borax, but probably not much known as to its constituent elements or its nature by most of those who use it more or less frequently. Biborate of sodium, to use its chemical name, first comes as a natural product from Tibet by way of India under the name of tincal, the salt being covered with a green crust of a soapy nature which requires removal before the borax is available for use.

A Scientific Discussion.

Professor Searcher—What are supposed to be petrified horse tracks have been found in Missouri.

Old Lady—Oh, they can't be.

Professor Searcher—Just my opinion exactly, madam. The horse and the alluvial deposit in which those imprints were discovered represented widely different eras of zoological and geological history.

Old Lady—Yes, and a petrified horse couldn't walk, you know.—New York Weekly.

IMPACTED EAR WAX.

Where It Comes From and How It Should Be Treated.

The normal secretion of the orifice of the ear is the product of glands situated in the outer half of the canal only. This secretion—the cerumen, or ear wax—is slowly poured from the gland ducts as a thin, yellowish liquid. As it quickly loses a large amount of its watery elements by evaporation and becomes admixed with dust it forms a thin layer, waxlike in color and consistency, which normally covers only the outer portion of the canal, that in which the glands are located.

This layer of material probably has its chief function, in common with the few small hairs in the same location, in protecting the vibratory membrane—the drum—from the contact of dust.

It is interesting to observe that the exit of this layer of wax is accomplished by nature chiefly with the aid of the motion communicated to the ear canal by the movement of the jaw in chewing and talking, a motion readily felt by touching the orifice with the finger tip during these processes. The constant increase of the secretion is therefore provided with a corresponding loss, which takes place almost as imperceptibly as the constant loss of the superficial layer of the skin from the surface of the body.

This explanation serves to make clear why the use of ear spoons, pins or hairpins is unnecessary. The use of such objects is not only superfluous, but it is often the cause of the very condition which those who use them would prevent.

Even too vigorous washing with a twisted cloth or sponge, for example, may result in pushing the wax back into the canal until a mass sufficient to block the entire opening is accumulated.

The first intimation of the presence of impacted wax is often the sudden occurrence of a considerable degree of deafness. This is most likely to happen on a damp day or just after or during a bath. A slight amount of moisture causes the mass to swell so that the narrow chink previously existing between the mass and the canal is closed. If it is not now removed, the mass may shrink and the hearing power be temporarily restored, only to be lost again when conditions arise causing an increase in the size of the mass.

Firm, gentle syringing with warm water from a piston ear syringe is usually regarded as the safest and best method of removing the mass, the handling of which had better be intrusted to a physician or trained nurse, if possible.—Youth's Companion.

The Coloring Qualities of Pepper.

Canaries when fed with cayenne pepper gradually change their color, passing from yellow to red. Cayenne pepper contains a tinctorial substance, an irritative principle and an oil. When the last two substances are extracted by steeping in alcohol, pepper loses its coloring properties, but an addition of olive oil restores them. From this fact the conclusion is drawn that the oily principle of pepper is the necessary vehicle of color. Experiments made with white hens gave similar results. These hens have also the quality of being able to indicate changes of temperature by a marked change of plumage. The yolk of their egg is bright red.

Salad Plants.

The chief value and advantage of salad plants are derived from their saline matters. In these they are comparatively rich, especially in potash salts. Cooking generally extracts these from vegetables, and consequently such vegetables as can be eaten in an uncooked state present these unchanged and in a most agreeable form in the crisp, cool and succulent leaves, which also serve to introduce a large amount of water into the system.

Comforting.

"Does the fact that I have money make any difference to you, dearest?" she asked.

"Of course it does, my own," he answered. "It is such a comfort to know that if I should die you would be provided for."

"But suppose I should die?"

"Then I would be provided for."

The Biggest of Tips.

"I tell you what," grumbled the pessimistic waiter, "people ain't giving tips like they used to in the old days."

"That's right," replied the good natured waiter facetiously. "There was Esau, for instance, who gave his birthright for a mess of pottage."—Philadelphia Press.

Table Linen.

Do not allow holes to appear in table linen until it is all so thin that it has to be laid aside. On Saturday before the clothes are assorted for the washing look over all the soiled tablecloths and napkins, holding them to the light. Use embroidery floss to correspond with the quality of the linen, and every thin place should be darned or run as neatly as possible. You have no idea how much longer linen will last when cared for in this way.—Good Housekeeping.

One of Its Advantages.

His attempt to quiet the baby had necessitated a continuity of effort that was wearying.

"Well," he growled at last, "I can see one great advantage about the cradle of the deep."

"What is that?" she asked.

"It is an automatic rocker."—Chicago News.

TWO WERE KILLED.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair the Victims of a Fatal Automobile Accident.

CHAFFEUR BECAME INSANE

They Were on Their Return to Paris When the Machine Swerved and Ran Into a Tree.

PARTICULARS OF THE SAD AFFAIR

EVREUX, France, August 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair, Americans, who were related to Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, jr., (Miss Virginia Fair), were returning to Paris from Trouville Thursday when their automobile swerved and crashed into a tree fifteen miles from here. Both were killed. The chaffeur became insane as a consequence of the shock.

The accident occurred at 2.30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and almost in front of the Chateau Buisson Du Mai. The Fairs intended to dine and spend the night in Paris and return to Trouville for lunch today.

The wife of the gatekeeper of the chateau was the only witness of the disaster. She says she noticed a big red automobile coming along the road at a tremendous pace. Suddenly something happened and the heavy machine slid sidewise from the right to the left side of the road for about sixty yards. It then dashed up an embankment, turned a complete somersault and crashed into a big elm tree in front of the gate of the chateau. The automobile was completely wrecked—the front axle was broken and other parts of the machine were smashed, including the steering gear. When the automobile turned over, the wife of the gatekeeper says she saw Mr. and Mrs. Fair thrown high in the air and fall with a heavy thud to the ground. The chaffeur, who was sitting behind the Fairs, was precipitated into a ditch.

He staggered to his feet; calling for help. The gatekeeper's wife rushed to his assistance and aided him in extricating Mr. and Mrs. Fair, who were buried beneath the wrecked machine and in the last throes of death. Both had sustained ghastly injuries and were almost unrecognizable. Mr. Fair's head had been crushed in, while his wife's skull was split. The chaffeur was terribly affected at the calamity and seemed bereft of his senses. He threw himself into a ditch on the opposite side of the road and rolled about crying, "My poor masters."

M. Borson, owner of the Chateau-Buisson Du Mai, was summoned and after advising the local authorities of the accident, he ordered the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Fair to be carried to the gatekeeper's lodge. Here they now lie on mattresses and flowers have been strewn over them. In the room are three wax tapers burning dimly.

The accident was evidently due to the bursting of a tire. At the time it occurred the automobile; which was capable of running seventy-four miles an hour, was going at the rate of sixty-two miles an hour.

The local police authorities hold in their possessions and have sealed up a valise belonging to the Fairs which contains jewelry, two letters of credit, a French bank note worth $200 and some gold coins.

The W. C. T. U. Reception.

The reception held Thursday night by the W. C. T. U. ladies in their new rooms was a very pleasant affair and largely attended, from 75 to 100 ladies being present.

It was of an entirely social character and was greatly enjoyed by all who were so fortunate as to be there.

During the evening those assembled were entertained by music and recitations. Miss Marion Foster, of Philadelphia, delighted everyone with choice selections on the piano. Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes and Miss Rebecca Lyon also rendered some fine music on the same instrument. Mrs. Thomas R. Hayes and Mrs. J. C. Meyer sang two beautiful duets, which were highly appreciated, and Mrs. John L. Kurtz contributed to the enjoyment of the occasion by an appropriate recitation.

There was also something good to eat and drink, which were furnished by the members of the society, consisting of sponge cake and lemonade, to which full justice was done by the guests.

The reception was in every way a perfect success.

Rich Find Among Records

While examining the Blair county survey records, William C. Stiffler discovered there was 319 acres of unseated land in Logan township, near Altoona, valued at $150,000. Stiffler hurried to Harrisburg, where he entered claim for the land. The payment of a small sum to the state treasury gave him title to the tract. There are two veins of coal underlying the land, the richest being 4½ feet thick. The state records show that in 1793 David Lewis took out a patent on the section. Lewis and his heirs disappeared, and ownership of the land passed to the state by reason of non-payment of taxes.

NURSERY NOTES.

As the boys grow up make companions of them. Then they will not seek companionship elsewhere.

Bear in mind that you are largely responsible for your child's inherited character and have patience with faults and failings.

There are many permanently deaf persons whose affliction has been brought on by boxing the ears, and the practice should be carefully avoided by parents.

Thin, nervous children should by all means have their hair kept short, and it is well for the hair of all children to be kept at a length that facilitates the proper cleanliness and care.

Try to sympathize with girlish flights of fancy even if they seem absurd to you. By so doing you will retain your influence over your daughters and not teach them to seek sympathy elsewhere.

Remember that each human being to be healthy requires so many cubic feet of air, and if your nursery is stuffed up with curtains and hangings and clothes behind the doors and cardboard boxes, etc., the air cannot circulate freely, and the result is unfavorable both to child and nurse.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Game chickens have more meat in proportion to their height than any other breed of fowls.

When the chickens are growing fast, it is a good plan to mix a little bonemeal in their soft feed.

Smearing whole wheat with kerosene or turpentine and feeding it to the chickens is a good remedy for gapes.

Adding some carbolic acid and putting on hot will secure much better results from the whitewashing of the poultry house.

While it is at no time advisable to keep food of any kind before the fowls all the time, it will be an advantage to keep milk where they can drink all they want.

Fowls do not run together in large numbers. They will always divide into flocks of small size and will select different feeding grounds, always provided they have the opportunity.

A growing chicken, like a growing animal, requires plenty of good, wholesome food supplied liberally and often in order to enable them to grow and mature rapidly and to develop properly.

There Was a Limit.

"I am glad they moved away," remarked the good housewife, speaking of a family of borrowing neighbors who had just left the neighborhood. "I was willing to lend them a loaf of bread occasionally or half a dozen eggs or the washboard or the lemon squeezer, but when they got down to sending the little girl over to borrow pennies to give the organ grinder I began to think it was nearly time to draw the line; and, to cap the climax, one day they actually asked me to come over and take care of the baby while they went out to do the shopping!"

Will Try the Bee Cure.

A Palo Alto gentleman, who suffers much torture from rheumatism, has become desperate and will resort to the bee cure. He has arranged for a dozen of the insects, which will be placed in a pillow case, shaken up right good into a fighting humor, and then the offending leg will be put into the pillow case, where the busy bees will be allowed to pump formic acid into the human limb. The result of the experiment will be published later, as there are many sufferers from that section who are interested.

HELD A MEETING.

Superintendents of Big Coal Companies Got Together at Pottsville.

CALLED IT A SOCIAL AFFAIR

Boys Throw Stones at Workmen Who Were Returning from a Mine, but No One Was Hurt.

MASS MEETING HELD AT SCRANTON

POTTSVILLE, August 14.—The general superintendents of the largest coal companies in the anthracite field held a secret meeting at the offices of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company here yesterday. All efforts to obtain any information beyond the statement that the gathering was merely a social one, was futile. A brief meeting was held in the Reading office at 11 o'clock, and shortly after noon the entire party went to Tumbling Run, a pleasure park, where a luncheon was served. Several hours were spent at the resort, after which the superintendents left for their homes. Those at the meeting were:

E. E. Loomis, vice president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad; R. C. Luther, general superintendent of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, S. D. Warriner, general superintendent of the Lehigh Valley Coal company; C. C. Rose, superintendent of the Delaware and Hudson Canal company, W. A. Thorne, of Reading, general superintendent of the coal department of the Temple Iron company; W. A. May, general superintendent of the Delaware and Hudson Coal company; W. J. Richards, of Wilkesbarre, general superintendent of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company; Morris B. Williams, of Wilkesbarre, general superintendent of the Susquehanna Coal company, and W. B. Zehner, general superintendent of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company.

Superintendent Luther, after the other officials had departed, said:

"The gathering was only a social affair. We meet once a month, usually in the upper part of the region. This time I invited the gentlemen here. That is all there is to it."

Mr. Luther said that of course the strike was discussed among other things, but that was not the purpose of the meeting. In reply to a query regarding a settlement of the strike, Mr. Luther said the termination of the suspension rests entirely with the men. When asked if an attempt would be made to concentrate workmen that are willing to work at any one colliery for the purpose of operating it, the superintendent smiled and made no reply.

WILKESBARRE, August 14.—A number of workmen who were returning from the Woodward mine last night claim a volley of stones was fired at them, but no one was hurt. A number of boys were seen on a hill nearby, and it is thought they were the guilty parties.

The owners of Warnke washery, at Duryea, have asked Sheriff Jacobs to protect their property. Tuesday a barbed wire barricade was built around the washery. Wednesday night some unknown parties tore it down. A crowd of 500 men and boys collected around the washery Wednesday morning and it was expected operations would be resumed. When a number of deputy sheriffs reached the place the crowd dispersed. It is said an attempt will be made to resume work today.

The presidents of the local assemblies of the United Mine Workers of the Wilkesbarre district met here yesterday and adopted resolutions condemning Rev. Father O'Reilly, of Shenandoah, for his criticism of the officers of the United Mine Workers. President Mitchell and the district presidents were eulogized for their efforts to better the condition of the miners. President Mitchell addressed a personal letter to the Shenandoah clergyman, taking exceptions to certain remarks alleged to have been made by him in his church last Sunday. Rev. O'Reilly sent a curt reply, saying that Mr. Mitchell had no right to criticize his sermons.

Influx of Immigrants.

Pennsylvania railroad officials in Altoona estimate that all previous records in handling immigrants westward have been broken since April. An average of 400 daily have passed through Altoona, making the grand total for the summer approximate 50,000. Of these 10,000 are located in the soft coal fields and the Connellsville region. Most of the immigrants are illiterates from eastern Europe.

Activity in 'Scootac Region.

Beech Creek, Aug. 14.—There is great activity at the clay mines of the Burns fire brick company at Bear Swamp in the 'Scootac region. Fifteen men are at work now and the number will soon be increased to 40. A crusher and dust mill will be erected as quickly as possible. Two miles of track on the extension of the 'Scootac railroad up the South Fork has been laid.

—Through the officiousness of some member of his force, Secretary Moody of the Navy has been placed in an embarrassing position. The Secretary invited the members of the Senate and House committees on naval affairs to be his guests on the Dolphin during the naval maneuvers this month. Some one of the Secretary's subordinates applied to the Comptroller of the Treasury funds, and has received a negative reply. Secretary Moody desired no such information as he had known the law from the first, and intended to entertain the members of the committees at his own expense. It is not estimated that the mess rate, which is what the Secretary will have to pay, will be over $1 per day. per man, and that is not only paid by the Secretary in this instance, but is paid even by the President for every person who accompanies him on his frequent trips on the Sylph, the Dolphin and the Mayflower. Of course, in the event that a trip is planned by Congress, that body can make a special appropriation to cover the expenses of its members when on board naval vessels, as was done during the Columbus naval review in 1893.

—The War and Navy Departments have received an appeal for protection, from the United States and Haitian Cable Company. It seems that Admiral Killick has allied himself with General Firman, and, as these two revolutionary commanders desire to prevent knowledge of their operations and methods from reaching the outside world, they have ordered the cable to New York severed. Although the company owning the cable is largely French, many of the stockholders are Americans and a large portion of the business done is for the Navy Department of this country. Therefore appeal is made to this country for protection. It is further claimed that, in accordance with the Monroe Doctrine, the United States must insist upon making any necessary interference with a view to preserving order as the interference by France in this instance might result in a similar condition to that in which the United States found itself after the battle of Manila, when withdrawa was incompatible with the safety of the foreign residents of that city.

Death of a Former Centre County Man.

Clyde Irvin Coxey, a former Centre county man, died Wednesday morning at his home in Altoona. He was a native of Oak Hall, Centre county, and was born July 23, 1869 making his age 33 years and 20 days. The cause of death was an affection of the lungs.

He was an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and had been a resident of Altoona for the past ten years. Besides his wife he is survived by four small children. Mr. Coxey was a member of Altoona Lodge, No 387, Brotherhood of Locomotive Fireman and Railroad Voluntary Relief Association.

Brief funeral services were held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the family residence. Friday morning the body was taken to Boalsburg, this county where interment was made.

A Painful Accident.

Fred Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Owen, of Milesburg, met with quite a serious accident Tuesday morning. He is in the employ of the United Telegraph & Telephone Company at this place, and Tuesday morning was repairing some damage to the wires caused by the fire at Ceader's bakery. In coming down from a pole he acciden tally stepped on a loose board containing a nail which penetrated through his shoe entering his foot and inflicting an ugly wound. He was taken into Krumrine's drug store where the wound was dressed and later he was taken to his home at Milesburg where he is now reported to be getting along as nicely as could be expected under the circumstances.

Threshing Outfit in Bridge Accident.

Beech Creek, Aug. 15.—John Gloesner's traction engine, water tank and large thresher was moving up the Sugar run road in Beech Creek township Wednesday evening and while crossing the bridge over that stream near Levi Rupert's home, the plank gave way and the engine went down several feet. The road was blocked and the men worked until late at night to raise the engine which was not damaged.

Flogging in Poland.

Almost incredible stories are told of General von Wahl, Governor of Wilna, in Russian Poland, upon whose life an attempt was made the other day. He is accused, among other things, of great cruelty toward the prisoners arrested for making a public demonstration on May day.

It is said that 36 of them were stripped and knouted, or flogged with rods, in the presence of the governor himself, who, in addition to ordering the lashes, mocked the prisoners, wishing them "very pleasant holidays"—an allusion to May day.

It is further declared that the governor asked the first prisoner, after he was stripped, how old he was, and, learning that he was 50, said: "Then give him 50 strokes," ordering the next one 40 and so on, one stroke for each year. One prisoner, in his exasperation, replied, "I am a million of years old," whereupon he received a hundred strokes. A pause of five minutes was imposed by the doctors after 50, the man fainting when the whole sentence had been carried out.

It is also related that Governor von Wahl, as Governor of Witebsk, had several boys of the grammar school in that town stripped and birched in his presence until they were half dead; that at Kursk during the peasant riots he caused several of the rioters to be flogged to death; and that as chief of the St. Petersburg police he acted toward the female strikers at the tobacco factory in much the same way as toward the May day demonstrators of Wilna.

There are suggestions that the general is not altogether sane. He has been notorious for his severity, however, ever since 1863, when he was aide-de-camp of the nefarious Count Berg, Governor of Warsaw, and was wounded when an attempt was made to assassinate the latter.

Death of George W. Wilson.

George W. Wilson, who had reached the advanced age of 79, dropped dead on the streets of Curwensville, on Tuesday night, from the effects of heart disease. He made his home with his son Emiger in that place.

Mr. Wilson was the father of Mrs. Jacob Smith, of Spring street, and spent much of his time at her home here. He was originally from the vicinity of Unionville, but when his wife died his home was broken up and he spent his days among his children, of whom the following survive:

Emiger, of Curwensville; William, Mrs. Francis Jones and Mrs. Terzie Cadwalader, of Philipsburg, Mrs. Hannah Smith, of this place, and Mrs. Effie Kaup, of Lamar.

Interment was made at Unionville Friday afternoon.

A Heroic Act.

Wednesday afternoon as the Bellefonte Central passenger train was backing up to the station a little child about 4 years old was crawling on all-fours across the iron trestle near the lime kilns, all unconscious of impending danger. Conductor Parker did not observe the little tot until it was too late to stop the train and had it not been for the quick and brave act of Lew Mills, who was near the track, the child would have been killed. Lew took in the situation at a glance and at the risk of his own life jumped in front of the cars and pulled the child out of danger. Lew Mills has proven himself a hero by this act of daring in saving human life.

MONDAY NIGHT'S COUNCIL MEETING.

As Usual Nothing is Accomplished By this Most Worthy Body.

We didn't attend the meeting of Council Monday night as we have been informed our presence was not desired, but that fact alone would not have deterred us from going, as it is a public body met for the transaction of public business, and the public is interested in knowing somethings of their proceedings. When the reports of the various committees were called for, very little was learned of what they were doing. Mr. Derstine, of the Street Committee, reported that the street at the Lime Kilns was still open and would not be closed, but why the American Lime & Stone Company made another street is beyond our ken. We will learn more about this after a while. The Fire and Police Committee said nothing concerning the long delay in having the fire alarm sounded last week. To them it is a light matter, but to property holders, it is of great concern. Nothing was said of the repairs to the reservoir. We presume that work is taking care of itself, and why need we care, for Councilman Kirk informs us that they have a guarantee. Councilman at Large, George R. Meek, succeeded in having the Street Committee instructed to ascertain the cost of building a stone wall along Water Street and report at next meeting. Councilman Garrity reported EVERYTHING MOVING ALONG NICELY AT THE WATER WORKS and that the new pump (that worthless piece of machinery) is in the hands of the firm who constructed it. This is an error on the part of Mr. Garrity. That machinery is in the hands of the Borough, and, although it is of no earthly use except perhaps as an ornament, will have to be paid for, thanks to the stupidity of his Committee. He might as well report facts as they are. It would save us the trouble of keeping the public informed. The appeal from the water tax assessment will be held on the 27th instant, at which all who feel themselves agrieved should attend, as it promises to be interesting.

Notwithstanding our warning to Council, they passed several bills and directed orders to be drawn for the same, which was illegal and any taxpayer of Bellefonte could have every member of that Body indicted and convicted of misdemeanor. For fear our readers may think that we are writing at random, we would say that the above assertion is made on the strength of an opinion given us by one of the leading attorneys at the Bellefonte Bar. We, accordingly, will allow the matter to rest with the people. If they are willing to submit to the action of these men, we can do nothing further. It now rests with you.

DEMOCRATIC SENATORIAL CONFERENCE.

Was Intended to Be a Great Popular Demonstration—Hon. William C. Heinle Renominated.

The Democratic constituents of Hon. W. C. Heinle made extensive arrangements to give that gentleman a royal reception and to publicly ratify his renomination for State Senator last Thursday night. In order to properly celebrate the event, a committee was appointed to raise money, publish the meeting, invite speakers, buy fireworks and make all arrangements for the occasion. Hon. James Kerr and several other brainy men of the district were written to and told how important it was for them to be here, but alas they failed to materialize. The Coleville and Zion bands were engaged, fireworks ordered and carriages hired, and after waiting in hopes that someone would come on the eight o'clock train and no one of note arriving, the conferees were loaded into the carriages and the procession started from the Bush House to the Diamond. The music and red fire produced a very pretty and spectacular effect, but could have beeen dispensed with, although they served to interest the women and children along the line of march. The bands marched into the Court House and played for a long time to try and inveigle a crowd into the building, but there was no use in wasting their wind, the crowd preferred being outside.

The time having arrived to commence business, Hon. Henry Meyer nominated W. E. Wallace, of Clearfield, as Chairman of the Conference. He was elected, as were also Hon. Henry Meyer and H. A. Meyer as Secretaries, who were directed to call the roll, to which the following answered as being present:

Clinton Co.—A. F. Ryon, J. A. Draucker, H. A. Meyer.

Clearfield Co.—Dr. A. M. Buzzard John H. Burns. W. E. Wallace.

Centre Co.—W. C. Patterson, Hon. Henry Meyer, John Q. Miles.

The Chair then called for nominations. Mr. W. A. Ryon, of Clinton county, proceeded to read in stentorian tones a paper, which sounded like one of Mr. Heinle's own productions—at least it had all the earmarks of the Senator's effusions—and at its conclusion placed that gentleman in nomination. It was seconded by a rara avis from Clearfield county, which had a brilliant red band around its neck and was called by the Chairman a "Buzzard." It commenced flapping its wings and presently soared to a lofty height in its flight of fancy. Though it soon descended to the common level and commenced to warble about who and what their candidate was Why, bless its feathers and red necktie, we know more about Mr. Heinle in one day than Mr. Buzzard could tell in a life time. W. C. Heinle was no stranger to that audience, they know him like a book. The "bird's" peroration was a magnificent (?) effort in oratory, the sublime thought was suggested by the scene of the transfiguration of our Savior, though an awfully solemn subject it was handled in "lighter vein." At this point Mr. Buzzard raised his head, stretched out his wings, and fairly shrieked, "It is good for us to be here. Let us make here three tabernacles, one for Hon. Robert E. Pattison, one for Hon. W. C. Heinle and one for J. H. Hibner, and the whole Clearfield county ticket." It then returned to its perch, much to the relief of everyone. The closing sentences brought the blush of shame to the faces of many in that audience. Its utterances may not have been blasphemus, but were closely akin to it. He closed amidst deathlike silence. A ballot was then taken, which resulted in the unanimous choice of Hon. William C. Heinle.

Mr. Heinle, being called upon, responded in his usual happy manner, and made a most excellent address, which was interrupted by frequent applause, showing that he had the sympathy and good feeling of those present. His remarks were brief, but expressed his appreciation of the honor which had just been conferred upon him, thanking the conferees and, through them, the Democratic voters of the district for the trust and confidence they reposed in him. The Senator is one of the most tactful political speakers in the State and, though his hearers may differ with him, he always retains their respect.

It was intended by the Committee to have a few five minute speeches from different gentlemen present and calls were made for Hon. John A. Woodward, whom everybody wanted to hear. Just as he was rising to respond, someone called Fortney, who immediately was on his feet and started by tearing up the Republican party, evidently forgetting that there were many Republicans in the building, friends of Mr. Heinle, who had been specially invited to be present with the assurance that nothing of political significance would be said by any of the speakers. Mr. Fortney did not care for this, but, with his strong right arm raised towards Heaven and with his fist tightly clinched, he hurled one invective after another at our party and its leaders. He even so far forgot himself as to give a contemptous fling at Mr. Patton, our candidate for Senator, because he is, unfortunately, possessed of a fair amount of this world's goods, but he did not dare to even insinuate that Mr. Patton's wealth was not acquired honestly. He also paid his compliments to Mr. Dresser, the Republican candidate for Congress, and if there had been any vulnerable point in that gentleman's character, he would have made an attack upon him. He also informed us that the Republican party was composed principally of thieves, rascals and political tricksters. To put it mildly, his remarks were certainly in bad taste. The audience was completely disgusted and gradually left the room. Instead of being an enthusiastic meeting, it was just the reverse and cost Mr. Heinle many votes, for Mr. Fortney's method of trying to club Republicans into voting his ticket don't take. He was listened to in perfect silence and when he tried to create some amusement by telling an irreverent story, in which God was compared to Hoke Smith, many arose from their seats and left the room.

When he finally got through a Mr. McGrath, of Clearfield county, made a few remarks, after which a motion was made to adjourn, and those who had remained to the close marched out as solemn as if they were attending a funeral.

We are sorry for Mr. Heinle. It was not his fault and no one blames him, but what should have been a popular outburst of approval of his renomination turned out a perfect "fiasco."

NOTES.

The next time our Democratic friends give a public exhibition, we suggest that they arrange that the first speakers should be last and not the last first.

Just think! $78 went up in wind and smoke. They had better saved their money for election day—it would have made more voters than those speeches.

J. C. Meyer, Ellis L. Orvis and C. M. Bower had boiled their impromptu (?) remarks down to four minutes each and had their tongues oiled for the occasion, they might as well have spared themselves all the labor and trouble, though the audience would liked tohave heard from them.

We wonder how Mr. Heinle would look in one of Buzzard's Tabernacles? We are of the opinion an ice box would suit better after the election.

Hon. P. Gray Meek's letter of regret (?) at not being able to be present and give testimony as to his high appreciation of Senator Heinle's worth and character as a man was not read, in fact it was never written.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CONFERENCE.

Met at DuBois Last Thursday—S. R. Dresser, of McKean County, Nominated.

The Republican Congressional Conference of this District met in DuBois on Thursday, August 14th, with the following conferees present:

Cameron county—B. W. Green, J. P. McNerny, Dr. V. K. Corbett.

Centre—Wilbur F. Reeder, W. H. Harter, Edmund Blanchard.

Clearfield—H. McCullough, Leslie Stewart, W. C. Baum.

McKean—T. B. Clarke, Carl Engstrom, T. F. Richmond.

H. McCullough, Esq., of Clearfield, called the Conference to order and nominated Col. Wilbur F. Reeder, of Bellefonte, chairman of the Conference and he was chosen by unanimous vote. Col. Reeder took the chair and opened the convention for business with an address which initiated a spirit of enthusiasm that promises to put spirit into the first campaign of the District and firmly establish it in the Republican Congressional column of the State.

Dr. V. K. Corbett was elected secretary and Dr. Leslie Stewart and Carl Engstrom tellers, which completed the organization.

The chair directed the secretary to call the roll, which resulted in showing that all the conferees were present as above named.

Chairman Reeder stated that it was in order to receive nominations.

Mr. W. B. Green presented the name of Captain C. F. Barclay, of Cameron county, which was seconded by J. P. McNerny, of Emporium.

Edmund Blanchard, Esq., of Centre, followed in a neat speech, naming Centre's favorite son, Dr. M. J Locke. W. H. Harter seconded this nomination.

W. C. Baum, of Clearfield, presented Hon. W. C. Arnold as the choice of Clearfield county. Sheriff McCullough made a few remarks in support of this nomination.

Hon. T. F. Richmond had the honor of naming the successful candidate, S. R. Dresser, Esq., of McKean county.

The nominations were closed and the Chairman directed the Conferees to prepare for the first ballot, the result of which was that each candidate received three votes. During the afternoon and evening ballots were taken which did not effect the result to any extent. Near midnight, however, Mr. Edmund Blanchard, of Centre, made a motion to nominate S. R. Dresser, of McKean county, by acclamation, which motion prevailed, Mr. Dresser being declared by the Chair the choice of the 21st Congressional District for Congress.

Mr. Dresser being present was called upon for a speech. He responded by expressing his thanks for the honor and entertained the conferees and the cadidate at a banquet.

This Conference was peculiar in the fact of each County having a candidate, who felt it his right to be nominated, and ordinarily would have resulted in a bitter and prolonged contest. Fortunately this was averted, which is due, in a great measure, to their wisdom in selecting Col. Wilbur F. Reeder of Centre county who was enabled to unravel the tangled state of affairs by his judicious counsel. As a result, after the twentieth ballot was taken, the conferees arrived at the conclusion, with the consent of the several candidates, to vote for and nominate S. R. Dresser, Esq., which was accordingly done. The candidates pleged him their cordial support.

Too much praise cannot be given the gentleman who yielded so gracefully their claims to the nomination. They have placed themselves in position to command recognition in the future and the voters of this District should see to it, that their magnanimous conduct is not forgotten. They have demonstrated that party fealty with them stands paramount to mercenary motives.

HON. ALEXANDER E. PATTON.

Hon. Alexander E. Patton, our candidate for State Senate, is well known to the majority of the citizens of Centre county by reputation. It was our privilege, however, to meet him personally last week and the impression he created in our mind was most favorable.

You recognize in him a thorough, active, educated man, of gentlemanly bearing and refined in his conversation, Probably there is no busier man in the entire Senatorial District, he being engaged in several operations employing thousands of men. In order that our readers may have some idea of the magnitude of his business enterprises, we are informed that last month the several corporations to which he belongs paid out in cash $139,000 and his pay rolls for the last year have averaged not less than $100,000 per month.

He has been a SUCCESSFUL man, which alone should commend him to the thoughtful voters of the District, for where a man can properly conduct his own affairs it is safe to assume he can do the same for the public.

He is an HONEST man. No breath or word of suspicion has ever been breathed or spoken reflecting on his integrity and honesty.

He is a BENEVOLENT man. Not content with giving advise and kind words where aid is required, he always gives something of a substantial character. His neighbors, who know him intimately, testify to this.

He is a MORAL and UPRIGHT man and has the respect of every Christian and moral man who has the honor and pleasure of his acquaintance.

He is a REPUBLICAN and as such has always been foremost in assisting to elect the ticket nominated by that party.

He is a MAN who should and will receive the support of every voter in the Republican party who desires to send a representative to the State Senate, for whom no apology will ever be required for his record in that body.

OUR CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE.

We take pleasure in placing at the head of our columns the name of Hon. S. R. Dresser, of Bradford, McKean county, as Republican candidate for Congress in this District. Elsewhere we give a short sketch of his life, showing him to be a man worthy of the support of every Republican in this District. He is a successful business man, being engaged in manufacturing at his home town. It has been our pleasure personally meet with him and we found him to be a plain, practical, intelligent business man, who has shown himself to be competent to direct successfully his own extensive business operations and in sending him to represent us as a national lawmaker, we need have no fear as to his ability to serve us to our best interests. He is no politician, but as a life long Republican, has labored earnestly for the success of the Party.

HE DESERTS PATTISON

Democratic Committeeman Declares For Pennypacker.

DEMOCRATS CAN'T BE TRUSTED

Former Assistant Collector of Philadelphia Charles Henry Jones Refuses to Serve On Pattison's Committee.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Phialedphia, Aug. 18.—Charles Henry Jones, who was assistant collector of the port under Cleveland, a prominent Democrat and a member of the Philadelphia bar, has publicly declined to become a member of Robert E. Pattison's Democratic campaign committee. In his letter, which says that the Democratic party cannot be trusted, and in which he declares for Judge Pennypacker for governor, Mr. Jones says:

REFUSES TO AID PATTISON.

"I am in receipt of your letter informing me that I have been named a member of the citizens' committee to aid the campaign for the election of Hon. Robert E. Pattison for governor. I highly appreciate this honor and regret very much that I am unable to accept the position; but as I am not in accord with the present policy of the Democratic party upon the important question of money and expansion, I cannot advocate the election of its candidates for office.

"Sound money and expansion have always been, until the present time, fundamental doctrine of the Democratic party. Florida and the whole country lying between the Mississippi river and the Pacific ocean, including the Louisiana purchase, the annexation of Texas, the Gadsden purchase and that vast extent of territory ceded to the United States as the result of the Mexican war, were all acquired under Democratic administration of the government, when the party was a united and powerful organization. This policy added to the country more than two-thirds of its present area.

"The territory acquired under it now comprises twenty states, and is the seat of more than one-fourth of the population of the country. To this expansion is largely due our present greatness and prosperity, and the Democratic party is entitled to credit for the great benefits that have resulted to the country from this wise policy in the past.

EXPANSION IS NECESSARY.

"I can seen no distinction in principle because the results of the Spanish war, which have been of so incalculable benefit to the country, both at home and abroad, have carried this doctrine, in the natural course of events, beyond the seas. It has certainly added greatly to the power and importance of the country as a member of the family of nations, and as we are a commercial people the value of this cannot be over estimated.

"As one of the great powers of the world we must avail ourselves of every advantage that will enable us to perform our duties as such, and to sustain ourselves in our relations with foreign powers. This certainly cannot be accomplished if we retire within our own borders and confine ourselves to our own domestic affairs while the other great powers are pursuing a different policy.

DEMOCRATIC HYPOCRICY.

"That the Democratic party favored expansion beyond the main land is shown by its record upon the question of the acquisition of Cuba, which was always favored by the party, and strongly advocated during the administrations of Pierce and Buchanan. I do not consider the fact that the Republican party happened to be in power at the time the country entered upon this great epoch in its history justifies the Democratic party in changing its historical attitude upon this great question.

"Its hostility to this policy has been carried so far that upon one occasion in the house the party voted as a unit, with one marked exception, against appropriating the small sum of $500,000 to build shelter for our troops in the Philippines.

CAN'T TRUST DEMOCRATS.

"I have followed the course of the Democratic party in congress with much interest, and am constrained to say that, in my judgment, it would not be for the best interests of the country to put it in control of that body at the present time, and, so believing, I find myself unable to support its candidates.

"The selection of a senator of the United States from Pennsylvania and of members of the lower house of congress will be largely influenced at the coming election by the attitude of the voters toward the head of the ticket. The contest, therefore, cannot be confined to state issues, or to the correction of existing evils in the administration of state government. National issues will be paramount.

"Questions of state administration will be subordinated. If state issues are incidentally considered no more abundant guarantees that the duties of the high office of governor will be wisely and faithfully performed are needed than those which are furnished by the ability, high character and integrity of the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker."

—Bodily pain loses its terror if you've a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric oil in the house. Instant relief in cases of burns, cuts, sprains, accidents of any sort.

—The REPUBLICAN sent to any address until after the election for 25c.

Col. Wilbur F. Reeder departed Monday noon for Howard on pleasure bent. He will spend the next few days fishing and roaming the woods. We would not like to hazard our reputation as prophets by saying how many fish he will catch but no doubt it will be a good number.

THE PATRONS PICNIC

We invite the attention of the readers of the "Republican" to the 29th annual Encampment and exhibition of the patrons of husbandry, at Centre Hall September 13th to 19th. This is expected to be one of the largest gatherings of that society which has been held for many years and the management have gone to great expense to make it in every way a success. Everyone in Centre County, and especially the farmers, should take an interest in it. Arrangements have been made with the Railroad Company for special trains and reduced fare. One feature of this Encampment which is an inovation, is the one-third mile speedway, which has been constructed for the trial of horses and amusements. We think the management were wise in providing for this entertainment. It will be the means of increasing the attendance. The Committee having charge of the Encampment and to whom you should apply for information, are: Hon. Leonard Rhone, Chairman, John Dauberman, George Dale, Geo. Gingerich and G. L. Goodhart.

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Many a Bellefonte citizen finds the struggle hard.

With a back constantly aching.

With distressing urinary disorders.

Daily existence is but a struggle.

No need to keep it up.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

Bellefonte people endorse this claim.

Mr. B. H. Shaffer of Howard Street, tinsmith says: "I had backache, a lameness just over hips and when I took cold there was always difficulty with the kidney secretions. The lameness in my loins was very inconvenient for I could not move quickly without having sharp twinges through me and if bending I could hardly straighten. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills, procured them from F. Potts Green's drug store and took them. They banished the pain and lameness."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn C., Buffalo N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name-Doan's and take no substitute.

Sneezed Herself to Death.

Mrs. Sarah Mackey, of Porterfield, near Franklin, Pa., died Friday morning, the result of constant sneezing. She sneezed 500 times in an hour by actual count. Previous to this she had made a record all the way from 100 to 200 sneezes an hour. Her physicians were unable to do anything for her relief.

Additional Locals.

—Harter Bros., of Millheim, sold Twilight, their fine driving horse, to W. P. and M. Humes, of Bellefonte, for $200.

—Next time the girls at Hecla Park make ice cream they are hereby warned to keep a better watch on it than they did the last time.

—John Stoner has resigned his position as president of the Millheim Banking Co. but remains a member of the firm and Adam Bartges succeeds him in the official position.

—The many friends of Mrs. C. T. Gerverich will be glad to know that she is able to be about again after being confined to the house for the past few days with a bad cold.

—All the locomotives owned by the Pennsylvania railroad proper will have the lettering on the tenders changed. The word "Pennsylvania" will be substituted for the "P. R. R." heretofore used.

—On July 25 a new rule in regard to the transportation of baby carriages went into effect on the Pennsylvania railroad. Hereafter all baby carriages, gocarts and baby sleighs will be subject to the same charges as to fifty pounds excess baggage

—Mr. William Bilger, of Pleasant Gap, has just closed a contract with the supervisors of Spring township to remove the iron bridge near the Nail Works, where it was washed during the flood last February, and replace it on the piers in its original position. It is a big job, but Mr. Bilger will be equal to it.

—A one-legged trapeze performer and high-kicker gave an exhibition of his skill to a fair sized audience on the Diamond Wednesday night. He kept all the gate money and proceeds from sale of reserved seats. Some of his feats were wonderful for a man with the use of only one of his legs.

—Jacob Winklebleck, of Rebersburg, recently transported a large boiler from near Bellefonte to Rebersburg for Hon. Henry Meyer. Although a farmer at present, Mr. Winklebleck in past years became a skilled teamster, and when heavy hauling in that section is wanted done, he is invariably induced to perform the work.

—Elizabeth M., wife of Abraham Switzer died Thursday afternoon at her home at Coleville of tuberculosis. She was about 48 years of age and is survived by her husband and several children. The funeral took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, services being held in the Reformed church, Rev. Ambrose Schmidt officiating. Interments in the Union Cemetery.

—The Presbyterian and Methodist Sunday schools of State College will unite in holding a picnic at Hunter's Park Friday, the 29th inst. The United Brethren Sunday school and congregation of Bellefonte will hold their annual picnic on the 28th at the same place. Supt. Thomas has placed Hunter's Park in fine condition and either private or large picnics will find no more delightful place to spend the day.

—On Wednesday afternoon, at a short session of court, Judge Love named John D. Decker, of Potter township, to fill the unexpired term of Jury Commissioner, made vacant by the death of William Robb, of Curtin township. Mr. Decker held the position before and will be able to assume the position with little difficulty. His large acquaintance over the county will be a great advantage.

—The local scribe of the REPUBLICAN is greatly indebted to John Rockey, of Zion, for a bag of splendid baking apples for which please consider our hat off. Someone must have told Mr. Rockey of our fondness for apple pies hence the donation. Mr. Rockey is one of Centre counties most progressive farmers and anything that comes from his place is sure to be A No. 1.

—Mr. and Mrs. Burns Crider entertained a large company of friends Thursday night at their handsome home on Linn street. The event was given in honor of their guests, Misses Florence Beckel and Emily VanBillard, who are visiting them. The house and porch were beautifully decorated and illuminated with Japanese lanterns. The evening was passed pleasantly in dancing and other amusements.

—An important case was argued before Judge Bell Wednesday, involving a judgment of $3,000 growing out of a partnership between D. H. Hastings and the late John W. Cooke some twenty years ago. Thomas B. Harned and Clement Dale represented the John W. Cooke interest while Ellis L. Orvis and Wilbur F. Reeder represented D. H. Hastings' interest. The judge reserved his decision.

—Charles R. Kurtz, Esq., editor of the "Centre Democrat," and a very harmless young man, still continues to have a little sport at the expense of the DAILY NEWS. Last week he takes occasion to ridicule us for taking the active part we did to make the Hospital ball a success, and goes on to say that the first operation in that institution will be trepanning our cranium to relieve us of "Water on the Brain." This may all be true. But if Charley is so unfortunate as to be taken there for treatment we assure him that it will be no disease of the BRAIN that will require attention, for in his case the location where the gray matter should be found is entirely EMPTY.—Daily News.

CUBAN NEWSPAPERS

At Havana Attack the Government—Accuse President Palma

CONGRESS ALSO ON THE RACK

The Platt Amendment will not be violated-Ample Provision made for a Sinking fund to pay the $35,000,000 Loan:

NUMEROUS FAILURES THIS YEAR

HAVANA, Aug 16.—During the last few days several Havana newspapers have been making violent onslaughts upon the Chief Executive of the Republic, accusing him of incompetency, ignorance and weakness in not having done anything useful for the country. The "Lucha" claims that President Palma's promises to treat the various elements in Cuba alike have not been kept, and declares that what the executive wants is to govern without law and to ignore the constitution. The paper says that in spite of the repeated requests of Congress President Palma has not yet presented the budget.

The "Discussion" says Congress is wasting time lamentably, and declares that a number of laws have been delayed either in the House of Representatives or in the Senate, Congress must do more work, says the paper, or the session will pass without the accomplishment of anything for the vital interests of the country.

In the House of Representatives Monday it was voted that none of the fortresses or arsenals of the Cuban Republic could be leased or sold by the Government.

The comments made within the last week by American papers in regard to the proposed Cuban loan have greatly disturbed the Cuban press. The first announcement of the stand taken by the majority of the papers in the United States was received here with astonishment.

The Platt amendment, they say, will not be violated, as they have kept Article II in mind all of the time. Inquiry at first failed to reveal the plans by which they intend to get around the provisions of the Platt law, but a member of the Cuban Senate, the father of the loan project, says ample provision will be made for a sinking fund to pay the $35,000,000 loan. The plan provides an internal tax, similar to the war tax collected by the United States during the Spanish war.

In one month there have been more failures than in the record of any previous year, according to the "Commercial Gazette."

Keep the Roads In Order.

The State law providing for picking loose stones off the country roads was bought to bear last week upon two supervisors in Chester county. At the hearing it came out that one of the supervisors was faithful in the performance of his duty, while the other was not, but both were held equally responsible.

Let the Centre county supervisors take a hint from this and try to keep the roads in as good condition as possible. It is understood by all in these parts that many roads in the county can hardly be brought into passable condition even in the best circumstances and weather, hence the supervisor who tries to do his duty need have no fear of arrest. A touch here and there whenever it is seen to be absolutely necessary will do much to bring the roads into better condition.

Married.

At the home of Mr. Thomas Daughenbach, one mile southwest of Howard, at high noon on Thursday, August 14th, Miss Effie Daughenbach and Wm. F. C. Lucas were united in marriage by the Rev. G. F. Boggs.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daughenbach and is well and favorably known in the community where she has lived since childhood. The groom was for a time employed by the Jenkins Iron & Tool Co. He is now located in Bellwood, being stenographer and bookkeeper for the P. & N. W. R. R. The happy couple departed on the afternoon express for Buffalo and Niagara. After their return they will locate in Bellwood.

The New McKinley Postal Card.

The new McKinley postal cards which were promised over six months ago are out and are being distributed in small quantities to the post offices throughout the country.

The card is the same size as the old one. A space one inch from the top is reserved for the postmark and the lower part is to be devoted to the address only. In the upper right hand corner is an oval containing a miniature engraving of President McKinley, underneath which is inscribed "1843 - McKinley—1902."

The new cards have not been received in this city yet, but are expected in the order that will be sent in after the 1st of next month.

DEATH OF BERT HOGUE.

A Former Resident of Bellefonte Dies Suddenly at Jersey Shore.

The many friends of Bert Hogue in Bellefonte were greatly shocked Thursday when the intelligence reached here of that gentleman's sudden death which sad event occurred at his home in Jersey Shore that morning at 1:30 o'clock. Mr. Hogue had been ill but a few hours and death was due to heart disease.

Deceased was a native of Watsontown, Pa., and was about forty five years of age. For about ten years he was conductor on the local freight on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and during that time was a resident of Bellefonte. Last Spring he left Bellefonte and located at Jersey Shore where he opened a large hardware store and was doing a flourishing business.

Mr. Hogue was popular with all who knew him and his death is a severe shock to his friends and a great loss to the community in which he lived.

He is survived by his wife but no children. The remains will be taken to Watsontown where the funeral took place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Our Fire Alarm System at Fault.

A matter which should receive immediate attention from the Fire and Police Committee of Council is the prompt sounding of the fire alarm.

Last Tuesday, at the time of Joseph Ceaders' fire, both telephone exchanges had great difficulty in getting word to the Electric Light station and did not succeed in doing so until they called the Central R. R. station and R. B. Taylor's coal yard and had some one go over and tell the engineer.

This should be remedied in some way, for it is of vital importance that our firemen be notified of a fire immediately after its discovery, for the first few minutes are the most critical.

At least ten or fifteen minutes were passed in trying to have the whistle blown and as that is the only means of notifying our volunteer firemen no time should be wasted.

We do not know whose fault it was, or whether anyone was to blame, but it is a fact nevertheless that the flames were making rapid headway in the destruction of valuable property before our brave and faithful fire laddies knew that their invaluable services were required.

It is at the request of many of our citizens that we mention the subject, and it is not in the spirit of fault-finding nor complaint, but only because it is of so much import to every property-holder in Bellefonte.

We would suggest placing a gong in the Electric Light Works and at the Water Works so large and loud that it would be impossible not to hear it.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivaled for diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Green's Pharmacy.

The Williams' Grove Picnic.

The 29th Annual Great Grangers' Picnic Exhibition will be held at Williams Grove the week beginning August 25th.

The exhibition of farm machinery will surpass that of any former years and undoubtedly will be the greatest ever held in the Eastern States.

During the week the platform of the large auditorium, which seats 2,500 people, will be occupied by prominent grangers, agriculturists, educators and politicians.

Wednesday will be Politicians' Day, when all the candidates for governor are expected.

New Hotel Movement.

There is a movement on foot to organize a stock company for the purpose of erecting a large hotel on the present site of the College hotel. It is to be a three story brick structure of modern design and to cover the entire lot. The estimated cost is $25,000.

The old hotel building will be moved over on high street and fitted up for dwellings.

The promoters of this enterprise are Rev. Charles Aikens, of Pine Grove, John N. Krumrine, John L. Holmes and H. D. Meek.

Must Pay Tax or Go to Jail.

An era of tax collecting such as Altoona has never seen was inaugurated Tuesday, when two men were arrested at the instance of Tax Receiver Elway for the non-payment of occupation poll tax. They were taken to jail, but when the warden appeared at the door to admit them they asked for an opportunity to pay their taxes.

It cost them several dollars in costs. Hundreds of Altoona young men have never paid poll tax. They will be obliged to pay it now or serve 90 days in jail.

It is a curiosity in another way, inasmuch as it contains specimens of twenty-two kinds of native Philippine tobacco.

WORN TO A SHADOW.

When there is a falling off in flesh in woman or man there is "something wrong." And that something wrong is generally a loss of nutrition due to disease of the stomach and the other organs of digestion and nutrition. Sometimes this loss of flesh is accompanied by variable appetite, but in many cases the appetite does not fail and there may be a constant desire to eat. Languor, nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness, are symptoms often associated with this loss of nutrition and falling off in flesh.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food so that lost flesh is regained and the physical health re-established.

"I had suffered from indigestion and only those who have suffered from it know what it really is," writes Mrs. M. J. Fagan, of 1613 East Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y. "I had had severe attacks of headache and dizziness, with cold hands and feet; everything I ate distressed me, bowels were constipated and I was growing very thin and nervous. I cannot half express the bad feelings I had when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took nine bottles of the 'Discovery' and have taken several bottles of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I commenced feeling better with the first bottle and kept on improving. Now I am so greatly improved in health my friends often speak of it. I most heartily recommend these medicines to all suffering as I was."

Not to Be Sat On.

During a football match in Belfast between Ireland and Scotland an enthusiastic supporter of the Irish team kept crying out, "Sit on them, Ireland!"

There was an old Scotchman beside him who endured this for a time, but at length, unable to stand it any longer, he turned round and impressively remarked:

"Ye can sit on the leek, mon, and mebbe ye can sit on the rose, but I tell you, mon, ye canna' sit on the thistle."—Pearson's.

Great Water Pumpers.

An acre of grass land, according to experiments, gives off not less than 6,400 quarts of water in twenty-four hours, and an acre of sunflowers would give a relatively greater quantity. In fact, swamps have been reclaimed and malarial marshes rendered innocuous by planting sunflowers or eucalyptus trees, which are great pumpers of water and also exert other influences counteracting baneful conditions of air, earth and water.

AFTERNOON NAPS.

Children Need Them Long After They Have Left Babyhood.

"He's getting entirely too big for his daytime nap," said an unwise mother recently, who announced in the hearing of the child that "little men ought to break themselves of such babyish habits." And the poor little eyes were heavy with sleep at the time, as it was the time for the regular afternoon nap to which he had been accustomed.

It was a surprise to learn that any mother would consider it a duty to plan the "breaking up" of the little folks' naptime. The majority of mothers find that their little ones outgrow the habit much earlier than is desirable, and it certainly is wise to encourage the practice just as long as the restless youngsters show the least sign of becoming tired after their morning's play.

The two or three hours during the day when the little ones can be persuaded to take a nap are very refreshing portions of the day to the average mother, and a wise mother will not break her little ones of taking daytime naps at all, but let them enjoy them just as long as they will, even until they are old enough to go to school, although they will probably object to the daytime naps some time before that period.

Mothers seldom realize how many steps these little feet take during the day—these little feet that never seem to grow tired because their owners are so very busy that they don't have time to think whether they are tired or not. But notwithstanding this, they often need a rest, and many times when the little ones are called cross they are only tired, and a good, refreshing nap would set them all right again.

"But, then, if they have a nap during the day they will not want to go to bed early at night," some one may observe, but the daytime nap need never interfere with the regular bedtime if the mother manages properly. Children are very much the creatures of habit, and if they are encouraged to take an afternoon nap at a regular time and then go to bed at a certain hour each night they will have little difficulty about "wooing the drowsy god."

The little ones need plenty of sleep and if well will not sleep longer than is good for them. A little enforced quiet, even when the afternoon nap has been outgrown, will benefit the restless child as well as the overtaxed mother.

Change Is Rest.

Concentration and system are excellent qualities, especially in work. But overconcentration and overniceness in clinging to one settled rule tell on the nerves in the long run. Relaxation is the great principle that physicians are trying to teach women nowadays.

Recreation need not always consist of social diversion, of the theater or of a shopping trip, although all are excellent in their way. But people must vary their routine. Men in business life usually have this variety, but nine women out of ten, especially housekeeping women, will go through the same round of duties and pleasures 365 days in the year.

If you begin to suffer from the depression, the despondency, that so often is the precursor of nervous breakdown, seek a change of some sort. Do something that you are not accustomed to do. Get a flood of new thoughts and new ideas percolating through your mind, and before you know it you will be laughing at the idea of despondency from imagined illness or any other cause.

Broken Lamps.

Mend a lamp loose in the collar with sifted plaster of paris mixed to a very soft paste with beaten white of an egg. Have everything ready before wetting up the plaster and work quickly, so it may set in place. With several lamps to mend, wet enough plaster for one at a time. It takes less than five minutes to set and is utterly worthless if one tries working it over. Metal work apart from the glass needs the soldering iron. Dust the break well with powdered rosin, tie the parts firmly together, lay the stick of solder above the break and fetch the iron down on it lightly, but firmly. When the solder cools, remove the melted rosin with a cloth dipped in alcohol.

Used In Bookbinding.

It seems a somewhat surprising statement to make that eggs, condensed milk, olive oil and vinegar are all used in the binding of books. Yet such is the case. The white of egg is used for "sizing," to cause the delicate ornamental gold leaf to adhere to the leather. To make the "sizing" perform its adhesive work even more delicately a little milk is added, and to help further in the important work of adhesion, a coating of olive oil or diluted vinegar is sometimes applied to the leather. Wise old bookbinders have been seen to use the light froth of ale as a coating over a binding of silk. The froth holds the gold leaf with perfect success and does not stain the silk. Many of the old expert bookbinders have little secret methods of their own by which to produce peculiarly fine results, and these secrets they guard as jealously as the housewife does her favorite family recipes.—Pearson's Weekly.

A Wise Woman.

Mr. Snaggle (snappishly)—Don't be correcting that boy always, Sarah. Let nature take its course, won't you?

Mrs. Snaggle (laying aside the shingle)—I'll do nothing of the sort, Mr. Snaggle. I don't intend that any woman shall have such a husband as I've got if I can prevent it.

ROOM FOR ALL GRADUATES

Nature Adjusts Matters and Always Preserves an Equilibrium.

Once a year the schools and colleges of the country harvest a crop of graduates, and once a year the wise men of the land write essays for publication on the surplus of men who are entering the law, medicine and other callings that are open to the newcomers. If the wise men are to be believed, it would seem that all the occupations were filled and that the young man had arrived too late.

Fortunately for the tenderfoot, the wise men have always been wrong. No philosopher has ever presented a logical argument that did not leave something to be said on the other side. Every year since the world set up for business a new crop of young men has arrived, and that new crop has eventually become the stay of the race. What has been going on eternally will continue. The young chaps will locate themselves. It is no argument that lawyers have their signs staring at you from every hallway on half the streets within several blocks of every courthouse in the country. The harvest that includes a new lot of lawyers also raises a lot of new litigants. Nature takes care to preserve an equilibrium. If the fledgelings of the medical schools do not find bones to saw, some of them turn to sawing wood. The boy who has gone through college with the intention of becoming president of the United States finds a satisfactory job as master of ceremonies in a coalyard. A few jostles and the new man adjusts himself to circumstances, and then he has become a part of the machine, which runs on as usual.

It is unnecessary to become alarmed about the surplus man. If he is in law, medicine, theology, horse trading, peddling milk or anything else, he finds it out, and he arranges the matter in some way without any upheaval in society. The surplus man is surplus only until he gets his first job. After that he is one of the establishment.—Pittsburg Times.

Justice Greater Than Charity.

The one divine work, the one ordered sacrifice, is to do justice, and it is the last we are ever inclined to do. Any thing rather than that. As much charity as you choose, but no justice. "Nay," you will say, "charity is greater than justice." Yes, it is greater; it is the summit of justice; it is the temple of which justice is the foundation. But you can't have the top without the bottom; you cannot build upon charity. You must build upon justice for the main reason, that you have not at first charity to build with. It is the last reward of good work. Do justice to your brother (you can do that whether you love him or not) and you will come to love him. It is all very fine to think you can build upon charity to begin with, but you will find all you have to begin with begins at home and is essentially love of yourself.—Ruskin.

The Four D's

Charles Spurgeon once said that there were three great enemies to man—"dirt, debt and the devil." He might have added one more d and included dyspepsia. The evil results of this disease could hardly be exaggerated. It's effects are felt in mind and body, and are as far reaching as the effects of the curse that was laid on the Jackdaw of Rheims which was cursed in "eating and drinking and sleeping in standing and sitting and lying." The good effects of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are most marked in aggravated and chronic cases of dyspepsia. It enables the glands to secrete the necessary quantity of digestive fluids, and this at once removes that craving or gnawing sensation so common to certain forms of indigestion. It tones and regulates the stomach invigorates the torpid liver and gives the blood making glands keen assimilative power. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures ninety-eight per cent. of those who use it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are superior to all other laxative medicines when the bowels are obstructed.

To My Friends.

It is with joy I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for months, Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so, and words cannot tell the good It has done me. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it. Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength, of mind and body, depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia. Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals. C. M. Parrish.

It Needs a Tonic.

There are times when your liver needs a tonic. Don't give purnatives that gripe and weaken. De witt's Little Early Risers expel all poison from the system and act as a tonic to the liver. W. Scott, 531 Highland ave., Milton, Pa., says: "I have carried DeWitt's Little Early Risers with me for several years and would not be without them." Small and easy to take Purely vegetable. They never gripe or distress. C. M. Parrish.

For Whooping Cough.

"Both my children were taken with whooping cough," writes Mrs. O. E. Dutton, of Danville, Ills. "A small bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar gave such relief that I used a 50 cent bottle, which saved me a doctor's bill." C. M. Parrish.

—The dread of people with weak lungs who suffer with stubborn coughs is consumption. Foley's Honey and Tar, if taken in time, cures the cold, heals the lungs and always, cures incipient consumption. C. M. Parrish.

—Brazilian Balm loosens the cough and curesthe cold like magic. Then, it does not injure the ears or wreck the kidneys like quinine.

—The greatest skin specialist in America originated the formula for Banner Salve. For all skin diseases, all cuts or sores, and for piles, it's the most healing medicine. C. M. Parrish.

—V. B. Conklin, Bowersville, O., says: "I received more benefit from Foley's Kidney Cure than from months of treatment by physicians." Take no substitute. C. M. Parrish.

—The lack of energy you feel, the backache and a run down condition generally, all mean kidney disorder. Foley's Kidney Cure will restore your strength and vigor by making the kidneys well. Take no substitute. C. M. Parrish.

Special Ten-Day Excursion to Ocean Grove, Asbury Park or Long Branch via Pennsylvania Railroad.

For the benefit of those desiring to visit the great Ocean Grove Camp Meeting, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will, on August 21, sell excursion tickets to Ocean Grove, Asbury Park, or Long Branch from stations named below at the very low rates quoted.

These tickets will be good for passage to Philadelphia on train indicated, thence on regular trains, leaving Broad Street Station at 12.27, 2.32, 3.30, 4.00 and 4 17 P. M. that day to destination.

Tickets will be good for return passage on regular trains, except "Pennsylvania Limited" and "Pennsylvania Special," until August 30, inclusive, and will permit of stop-off at Philadelphia within limit returning.

Reduced Rates via Pennsylvania Railroad for Mt. Gretna Farmers' Exposition.

On account of the Farmers' Exposition, to be held at Mt. Gretna, Pa., August 18 to 22, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell round-trip tickets to Mt. Gretna and return, at rate of one fare for the round trip, from principal stations between Altoona and Bryn Mawr; on the Northern Central Railway between Sunbury and Lutherville, inclusive, and on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Division east of and including Renovo. Tickets will be sold August 18 to 22, inclusive, good to return on day of issue only.

For information in regard to train service and specific rates application should be made to ticket agents.

Reduced Rates to Butte, Mont., via Pennsylvania Railroad, Account Meeting International Mining Congress.

On account of the meeting of the International Mining Congress at Butte, Mont., September 1 to 5, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Butte and return, on August 16, 20, 21, 26 and 27, good to return to original starting point not later than September 30, at reduced rates. For specific rates, stopover privileges, etc., consult nearest ticket agent.

oisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dullness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. C. M. Parrish.

Vacation Days.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only to guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds.

"I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for sores cuts and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, Swift, Tex. "It is the best remedy on the market." Sure cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. C. M. Parrish.

His Sight Threatened.

"While picnicing last month my 11 year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finnaly a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits. C. M. Parrish.

Kodol Digests what you Eat

Dyspepsia Cure

People once thought that the only way to cure indigestion was to stop eating. The trouble with such treatment is, that to stop eating is to stop living. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE has changed the whole method of treating this complaint. It contains all the natural digestive fluids and digests all you eat without aid from the stomach, so you can eat all the good food you want and be cured of your trouble at the same time.

"I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for several years and often sat down to eat but had to give it up after eating only two bites. I used two bottles of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and am alright to-day. Can now eat anything I want. W. L. Easton, Audubon, Iowa."

It can't help but do you good

Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2½ times the 50c. size.

When you suffer from biliousness or constipation, use the famous little liver pills known as DeWitt's Little EARLY RISERS. They never gripe.

National Drinks

In Germany it's beer; in France it's wine, and in the United States it is which is by far the most healthful of all. Men, women and children drink our Soda Drinks and enjoy them; there is nothing better. Have you tried our "Alaskiana" and "Chocolate Puff?" They are 10c drinks, but they're great—both food and drink—try them.

SODA WATER

JOHN C. MILLER

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

—John Curtin was so unfortunate as to have his handsome face disfigured by a fall, how, why or what he fell for we do not know.

—Mrs. Christian Hower, of Lycoming county, whose both arms were affected with gangrene, one of which had been amputated, died Friday. She was 76 years old.

—The Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday schools of State College will picnic at Hunter's Park on the 29th of August, instead of the 21st, as previously announced.

—Harvest Home services will be held in St. John's Reformed church, Bellefonte, next Sunday morning at 10:30, and in Zion Reformed church the same day at 2:30 p. m.

—James Frantz and Claude Wyland, boys between 17 and 18 years of age, residing at Milesburg, were arrested Monday evening at that place charged with being drunk and disorderly and were lodged in jail.

—Mrs. Eleanor V. Hitchcock, of Williamsport died Sunday afternoon at her home in that place, of heart failure, superinduced by pneumonia. She is survived by one daughter Mrs. Witmer Smith, of Bellefonte.

—We are glad to announce that Mr. Henry Harris of Howard street, who has been quite ill is much improved and not confined to bed. We join with Mr. Harris' many friends in the hope for his speedy and entire recovery.

—The Coleville band will give one of their delightful open air concerts in front of the Bush House next Saturday evening. This band ranks among the best in Central Pennsylvania and a concert from them is always highly appreciated by our citizens.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the United Brethren church will hold a festival Saturday evening, Aug. 23rd on the lawn near Gerberich's mill. In case of inclement weather the lecture rooms of the new parsonage, corner Thomas and High streets, will be used for the purpose. Everybody invited.

—The steeple on the Baptist church at Eagleville is being torn down and a wooden belfry and spire will be erected at the east corner of the front of the church. The interior of the church will be considerably changed and remodeled. The plans specify a vestibule and repapering in handsome style.

—About half past eleven Tuesday morning the fire alarm sounded for the south ward, creating considerable excitement. Before the fire companies reached the scene it was discovered that the fire was located in a flue in the old Methodist church building in the North ward. No damage was done.

—Men are at work on the stone abutments of the new bridge across Marsh creek, at the Mitchell Bechdel farm, near Eagleville. The wooden bridge at that point was taken out by the ice flood in March and a single span iron bridge will be erected. Centre county will assume a portion of the expense.

—One of the most famous pitchers in the country is "Rube" Waddel, of the Athletic base ball club of Philadelphia. His many eccentricities have attracted a great deal of attention to him. While almost everyone has heard of him yet very few known that Centre county can lay certain claims to him. While it is not sure that he is a native of Centre county yet he always spends his winters at Snow Shoe stopping with John G. Uzzle at his well known hostelry.

—Mr. W. H. Earon who farms the Cambridge place drove his five cows to pasture on Saturday morning, when evening arrived the other four came home, but a beautiful Jersey cow worth $50 was missing. After searching in all quarters, all Saturday night and Sunday her body was finally found on the hillside in the woods with two bullet holes in her head. The "why" for the act is beyond comprehension, no reason can be assigned if malice was the cause.

—We would kindly call the attention of the proper authorities to the condition of the sidewalks at the corner of Allegheny and Bishop streets, particularly at the Aikens and McBride crossing. After a hard rain it is almost impossible to pass those points without wading through mud and water. A couple of hours work by Mr. Shaughnessy and his efficient corps of assistants would obviate all difficulty and annoyance in this direction.

—The entertainment given at the Salvation Army hall Tuesday night was enjoyed by all who were there. Those taking part were children who under the training of Captain Hilts and Captain Swartz acquitted themselves in a creditable manner. The whole affair was novel and new to this community, part of it was very amusing and interesting. Only a fair sized audience was present which is greatly to be regretted as much time and labor had been expended by the officers in training the little folks but those who were there had a treat.

NEAR TO NATURE'S HEART.

In Three Days' Trip Our Representative Adds Twenty Subscribers.

This was my initial trip in the interest of the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN, and I always see so much that is interesting that I cannot refrain from describing it. The trip was begun Wednesday morning, the 13th. In the business office of McCoy & Linn I did the first execution, here three good substantial names were added to the list of subscribers, viz., Claude W. Fulton of Pittsburg, L. T. Eddy of Milesburg and J. M. Fulton of Philipsburg. This streak of luck and good will was continued before I left McCoy & Linn's premises by adding the name of Alfred S Smith, the company's Vulcan, and that of Wm. H. Smith of Altoona.

The town of Milesburg always reponds freely to the appeals of Republicans and before I reached the ratner prominent residence on the hill in which Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Gibbs reside, Mrs. G., whom I met on the street, gave me permission to send the paper to them. O. E. Miles, of Wm. Miles & Son's mercantile establishment, also gave the same agreeable assent. I discovered with regret that J. Ed. Irvin, who works in Tyrone, was at home ill with a touch of typhoid fever, but he is better now. By the way, Walter Miller, of near Chester, Pa., is a guest at J. Ed. Irvin's home.

This sufficed perhaps for a few hours at Milesburg and I wended my way toward Snow Shoe Intersection. Reaching there, H. S. Gunsallus was added to the list. I called at the home of W. L. Lewis, that prince of good fellows, who has been for years the section boss on the Snow Shoe railroad at that point, where I helped him and his good wife partake of an excellent dinner.

After the noon-day meal the Wallace Run locality was the point at which I aimed and reached it in tolerably good shape, intertwining digits with such good friends as W. T. Shirk and George Heaton and placing James S. Watson on the list. Further on toward the Chestnut Grove community James Hoover and wife and also Augustus Witherite came into view and all looked as large as life and twice as natural. I had a half formed purpose to stay all night with Jacob Shirk if he would allow me to do so and when I looked in the dining room there they were at supper with Rev. Mr. Sparks, the U. B. minister at Runville, gracing the head of the table. I was invited to a vacant seat at the dominie' right. Then I ventured the request; "Can I stay all night?" and Mr. Shirk, who, like those whom Paul recommends in Romans 12:13, is "Given to hospitality," gave cheerful consent. Indeed it was delightful to pass the night with such devoted Christians as these excellent people and Mr. Shirk also subscribed for the REPUBLICAN.

I must say a word about the communities of Runville and Chestnut Grove. I have been more or less intimate there for ten years past and high as my opinion of them has always been I can see a decided improvement in the general appearance of things and also in the moral tone. It is due to some influence. There is a U. B. appointment in each community and they have raised the preacher's salary without resort to festivals, which Rev. Sparks abominates. He is said to have declared that rather than accept money raised from a festival he will leave a community without a coat on his back. All honor to a man of such noble convictions. He opened a bush meeting Thursday night in the woods at Chestnut Grove. The Sunday-school picnic will be held in the grove near the church on Saturday, the 30th.

Thursday morning I descended into Bush Hollow, the first victim whom I brought down with my gun being Eliphaz P. Lucas, a rather good-looking young man who was on horseback. Next was Mrs. Hannah A. Bush, widow of the late well known Peter Bush, in whose honor the locality was named.

Reaching Unionville, I was fortunate in finding Mr. John Rich at home. Among several names added Thursday afternoon were Mrs. Cora Kreps, Elwood Fisher, Mrs. Chas. Eckenroth and W. H. Green, all of Unionville. In Mr. St. Clair's post-office I had the pleasure of meeting E. B. Holt of Clifton, Arizona, who is visiting relatives in that locality, among them being Mrs. Morrison, who is his sister. When he lived in Centre county many years ago he resided in Milesburg. He entered the Civil war from Centre county and was a member of the 1st Pa. Reserve Cavalry. He will remain until after the veteran's reunion in September.

My route was out the Philipsburg pike; thence across onto Dick's Run, meeting Shedrick Parsons en route. The shades of evening found me seated in one of L. C. Bullock's fine lawn swings which is on the extensive lawn in front of John C. Peter's residence. The master of the household was absent at Peale selling a load of brooms which he himself manufactures from broom corn. He disposed of about all and fortunately reached home that night. Mr. Peters is one of the men who made two trips to California during the gold excitement in the 50s when it took from May until September to reach that state. Friday morning I went toward the plank road, not however until I was greeted by Eli M. Stere and also that stalwart Republican Reuben Comly. Jason Underwood was cutting weeds at the roadside and while conversing with him W. Boggs, of Altoona, who is visiting in Centre county, appeared upon the scene and his subscription was at once secured. Last of all was J. G. Wallace of Milesburg. Let the band play.

IMPROVED ORDER OF RED MEN.

Ne-ha-sa-ne Camp No. 71 Organized at This Place.

Charles R. Willets and H. Birket, of Harrisburg, high officers in the Improved Order of Red Men, came to Bellefonte recently and organized and installed the officers of a camp at this place. The camp is named Ne-ha-sa-ne Camp No. 71, Improved Order of Red Men. The credit of starting the camp at this place is due to Officer Harry T. Miller, of the Bellefonte, police force. Mr. Miller secured the necessary papers from the high officials at Philadelphia and proceeded to hustle. Through his efforts the camp starts out with 64 charter members, certainly a very creditable showing.

The officers installed were as follows:

Prophet—Harry T. Miller.
Sachem—Jacob S. Knisely.
Senior Sagamore—Wm. Beezer.
Junior Sagamore—J. W. Rightnour.
Chief of Records—Harry Walkey.
Assistant Chief of Records—Chas. Hazel.
Keeper of Wampum—Wm. Rider.
Guards—Frank Sasserman and Seneca Walker.
Trustees—Bruce Garman, of Bellefonte; Charles Reese, of Snow Shoe, Isaac Shawver, of Centre Hall.

There will be a special meeting of the order next Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Death of Mrs. J. M. Bricker.

It is a sad duty to write the death notice or obituary of any one we love, but there are different degrees of sadness.

When our friends have lived the allotted time, it is a sorrow to think of parting with those whom we have known from childhood and to whom we could go for advice and sympathy. Their wise counsel has been a help to us in our weakness and trials. We take comfort, though, in the knowledge that their youth is renewed, and they have joined those who have been so long in waiting.

And what a grief it is when one who has hardly opened its eyes to this wonderous world, and so fragile, that it seems only fit to be touched by angel hands, is removed from us. When such a one is taken, we mourn, but are reconciled by the thought that God has spared it from the pain and sin of this world, that it has returned to its Father pure as at its creation.

But when the angel of death enters the home and takes from it one who has just begun to taste the joys of life, and has much to live for, it is hard to endure or understand. Then is the time we need sustaining grace, that we do not murmur nor complain of God's providence.

We are called upon to notice a particularly sad death. Mrs. J. M. Bricker of Buffalo Run, after a painful and protracted illness, closed her eyes to this world to open them in Heaven, at her home near Buffalo Run Sunday evening. Her's was a beautiful character, a loving wife, devoted mother and, above all, an earnest christian, being a consistent member of the Salona Lutheran Church.

The deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bartholomew and was aged thirty-six years and ten days. Besides her parents to mourn her loss, are her husband, Mr. J. M. Bricker, Manager of Mr. F. H. Clemson's farms, and two daughters, Lotta and Ermintrude. To these sadly afflicted and sorrowing friends we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

The funeral cortege went by rail to her former home at Salona on Wednesday. Interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery at that place the same afternoon, between three and four o'clock. Rev. Mattern officiating.

A Little Child's Sad Death.

Last Saturday Clyde Smith, who farms Frank McFarlane's farm at Boalsburg, took his two little children, one aged 4 years and the other 16 months, Mrs. Smith also accompanying them, on a trip to the bay field as a sort of an outing. During the day the little 16 months' old son fell through the ladders striking his head on a stone. Death ensued in a few hours.

The heart-broken parents have the sympathy of the entire community in this their hour of bereavement.

The funeral took place Monday morning, Rev. Hepler officiating. Interment in the Boalsburg cemetery.

THE PROCEEDINGS OF COUNCIL.

At Their Regular Semi-Monthly Session Held Monday Night.

At the council meeting Monday night the following members were present: Potter, Knisely, Garrity, Kirk, Whittaker and Derstine.

In the absence of President Reynolds, Mr. Knisely moved seconded by Mr. Derstine that Mr. Garrity act as chairman. The motion carried and Mr. Garrity took the gavel and called the meeting to order.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved after which council proceeded to discuss the business before them.

During the reading of the minutes President Reynolds entered the council chamber and Mr. Garrity vacated the chair in his favor.

Chairman Derstine of the Street committee reported work done on the streets during the past two weeks. The street committee recommended a new crossing at the Centre County Bank.

Chairman Garrity of the Water committee reported work done at Water works. Pumps running 24 hours and everything in good order.

Chairman Knisely of the Fire and Police committee reported the fire at Joseph Ceaders last week.

The Special Water committee had nothing new to report.

Two crossings were ordered built, one from Centre County Bank over Spring street; the other from Methodist church over Howard street to Joseph Rankin property.

The report of the Finance committee was as follows:

President Reynolds at the request of the Water committee set Wednesday August 27th as the day for hoiding the water tax appeals.

Chairman Kirk of the Nuisance committee reported as a nuisance the heavy blasting of the American Lime & Stone Company. It was referred back to the committee with power to act.

An ordinance forbiding peddling or hawking in Bellefonte boro without a licenfe was offered by Mr. Potter. This ordinance also related to circus's, shows, exhibitions, etc. It fixed the rate of license for such things and fixed the penalty for violation of same.

The ordinance after some discussion was referred back to the market committee for some corrections and to report at next meeting.

Chairman Derstine of the Street Committee asked for instruction in regard to Water street. He was asked to investigate the matter and make a recommendation.

George R. Meek stated that about six months ago in company with a mason he made an estimate of the cost of a stone wall with iron rail and flag stone pavement from the Central station to the Big Spring Cafe on South Water street. The cost would be about $2.300.00

The council instructed the Street committee to get bids and all data possible and report on same at next meeting.

New Headache Cure.

We wish to give our testimony to the merits of the "Kar-Sic" remedy, which is being manufactured and sold by a company of gentlemen in Bellefonte. It will not only prevent car sickness but is an almost instantaneous cure for headache. Tuesday night we were suffering from the worst headache we ever experienced, one of the nervous kind, which almost drove us wild. Geo. R. Meek Treasurer of the concern being told of our condition gave us a couple of drops of the new cure, which relieved us in a few moments and there has been no return of the trouble. Those afflicted with headache should give this home medicine a trial.

Meeting of Bellefonte School Board.

At a meeting of the Bellefonte School Board on Monday night Miss Bessie M. Craighead, of Craighead, Penn., a graduate of Dickinson college in the Class of 1901, was elected to fill the vacancy existing in the corps of teachers caused by the resignation of Prof. Kienzle, who resigned to take charge of the school at Athens. Miss Craighead comes to us very highly recommended and will, no doubt, prove a great help to Prof. Meyer in the High School.

The Board also adopted text books for the coming year as recommended by Prof. Etters and Prof. Meyer.
